ACHS Board honors Forster, Portalski

The Board of Education of Antioch Community High School recognized Charles J. Forster and Julie Portalski for their years of service on the board of education at its last regular meeting. Both retired from the board on Nov. 13, with Forster serving 16 years on the board and Portalski serving eight years.

Board President Glen Moore made presentations of a board resolution and a plaque in recognition of their contributions to the success of Antioch Community High School.

In other business, board Curriculum Committee Chairperson Laurel Dahl presented the following curriculum changes for the 1990-91 school year, all of which received approval by the entire board—Accounting II, Chemistry II, German II and Spanish III placed in the weighted grade group; Honors Biology 211, Advanced Placement U.S. History, and Calculus added to the present curriculum, and all three courses approved for weighted grade status; Spanish and German I courses now to be taught with an increased emphasis on total physical response; U.S. Government changed from a nine-week course to a semester course.

Consumer Education requirement can now be satisfied by: (1) taking consumer education as a senior, (2) passing the state proficiency exam, (3) successfully completing Business I, (4) successfully completing home economics course/life resource management, a new course added to that department.

Additional changes or additions include: (1) changing beginning typing and advance typing to keyboarding/typing I, II, and III, (2) allowing freshmen to take keyboarding/typing I, (3) allowing sophomores, juniors, and seniors to take keyboarding as fifth academic subject without meeting the grade point average requirement of 3.5 and (4) creating a new course in fine arts entitled keyboard/computer music.

The board growth and development committee chairperson, Frank W. Walsh, Jr., reported that the Growth and Development Advisory Committee held their first meeting on Thursday, Dec. 14. Jim Hintz has been selected to chair the committee, and the remaining 25 members will be assigned to one of five committees: (1) finance, (2) curricula, (3) demographics, (4) present facilities/options, (5) re-districting/options. The committee's next scheduled meeting is for Thursday, Jan. 4.

The board also approved two new policies which were recommended by Board Policy Committee Chairperson Alice Gantar. The first policy provides for limited smoking areas in the Antioch Comm. High School building. Smoking will be allowed by the staff and visitors only in the following areas: Smoking is permitted by adult spectators at all outdoor interscholastic athletic contests; smoking permitted, by adult spectators only, in Room 157, designated as an adult hospitality room, during scheduled indoor interscholastic athletic contests; smoking is permitted in the south end of the staff center and in the southeast corner of the maintenance area lunch room for employees of the district.

Smoking is prohibited in all other areas of the district's properties at all times. Supt. Gary Allen informed the board that he was working on a new policy which would make all school property "smoke free" by the beginning of the 1991-92 school year.

In response to a new Illinois law, the board approved a new policy which requires every applicant for a school bus driver position to furnish evidence of physical fitness to perform assigned duties, including test results for drug and alcohol use.

Supt. Allen informed the board that he had received information from the (Continued on page 7)

Antioch man under investigation for fraud

The Secretary of State's office has contacted the Lake County State's Attorney's office to ask for help in the investigation of alleged investment fraud by Michael Douglas of Antioch.

According to Joe Colina, chief of investigations for the Lake County State's Atty.'s office, the investigation is underway. "I don't know where it will lead," said Colina. "We're still in the process of investigating."

The U.S. Attorney's office is also investigating the charges.

At press time, according to the state's attorney's office, Douglas is still innocent of the charges.

A permanent restraining order was issued to halt the business of Douglas and the three Chicago-based companies he formed --D&S Trading Group, Analytic Trading Systems and Analytic Trading Service.

Douglas, 36, raised $41 million dollars between August 1987 and September 1989, only $5.1 million of which can be located, according to SEC claims. He allegedly promised about 300 companies and investors limited partnerships in stock and stock option trading operations.

Douglas has served two other prison terms on fraudulent and theft-related charges; in 1981, he was indicted for theft by deception of nearly $100,000 from Bobby Douglass, ex-Chicago Bear quarterback.

In 1985, after being paroled, Douglas also pleaded guilty to accepting $6,000 to invest in computers that he never bought, passing a $600 bad check, and purchasing unauthorized plane tickets with a credit card from a Lake Forest computer firm.

Drinking drivers beware

With New Year's Eve holiday approaching quickly, police personnel will be on the lookout for motorists violating rules of the road. Here, Sgt. Dempsey W. Leith of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. aims his radar gun at unsuspecting motorists. Lakeland Area drivers are encouraged to use 'Designated Driver' system on New Year's Eve night in an effort to keep holiday cheer from turning into holiday fear. Groups making progress on wetlands ordinance

By GERI MAJOWSKI
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County Health Dept. (LCHD) and the Stormwater Management Planning Committee of Lake County (SMPC) have pooled their efforts in working for a unified county wetland ordinance.

The Health Department is looking for an "agreement to the concept of having a unified regulatory mechanism, essentially using the committee's institutional and legislative mechanism for this purpose," said Steve Moylan, assistant divisional director of the health department.

LCHD has agreed to aid SMPC in its efforts to redraft the wetland ordinance as a part of a comprehensive county stormwater management plan. Moylan would like to use the LCHD field staff to do actual field work, such as identifying wetlands and determining their boundaries, as well as mapping.

"We realized that our ordinance had some weaknesses and that we could only regulate public health aspects of wetlands," said Colin Thacker, Divisional Director of LCHD. "We could not get into wetland preservation, or stormwater management aspects of (the problem). The state doesn't allow that."

Thacker hopes that by consolidating their efforts, more can be done toward the preservation of wetlands, groundwater protection, and stormwater management; thus addressing all ecological aspects.

The ordinance is designed to take control of county wetlands out of the hands of the Army Corps of Engineers, which currently has authority over both wetlands and flood plains.

Thacker commented on the possibility of moving wetlands to accommodate a shopping mall in Lakemoor.

"The money needed to create wetlands and maintain them is astronomical. That's one reason it's necessary to have some kind of regulatory mechanism. You can't just fill in a wetland here and suddenly create one over there. It's not that easy," said Thacker.

Several years ago the Army Corps of Engineers and the health department prepared a list of wetlands they wanted flagged, indicating that they did not want any permits issued for those parcels. With the ordinance, they expect to be adding to that list.

Thacker, however, states that the county is not against development.

"...We've been given the reputation of being anti-growth. People who try to give us that reputation just don't know what they're talking about. McHenry County rejects about 12 percent of their requests for septic systems. Do you know how many we reject? Only about 5 percent!

"We're not against development. We just want to make sure that your water is safe and that your septic system is going to work for a long time," Thacker said.

The committee was also addressed by Polly O'Toole, the regional manager of flood migration and stormwater management, as well as by David Hunter of the Army Corps of Engineers. They asked for $100,000 over a two-year period to match federal funds to map the flood plain and the four major watersheds in Lake County.

Because a quorum was not present, voting was tabled until the next meeting.

Snowmobiler collides with pier

The Fox Lake area suffered its first snowmobile fatality of the year earlier this week when a 36-year-old Ingleside man was killed after his machine rammed into a pier near Lakeside Inn Resort.

Fox Lake Fire Chief Stu Hoehne said Charles E. Cook, of 27685 W. North Crt. in Ingleside, was "going about 70 MPH before running into the pier with his snowmobile."

The passenger, James A. Klaver, 22, of Rosemont, bailed off the machine just before hitting a 4x4 piece of lumber from the pier, according to Hoehne. Cook was pronounced dead at the scene.

Hoehne said Cook was not wearing a helmet at the time of the accident. "Snowmobilers have to be cautious when they're traveling along the shoreline, especially in the dark. They should always be sure to wear a helmet too. It can be very dangerous out there," the chief warns.

Organizations provide for area needy

By BECKY JOHNS

Lakeland Newspapers

Several Antioch organizations, including the township office, the Methodist Church, and the Lions' Club, participated in food and clothing drives for the needy over the Christmas season.

"We gave about the same amount (of baskets) this year as last year," said Barb Goetzelman, who ran the drive for the Methodist Church. "You know when it will really pick up is in January when they start getting their heating bills and electric bills."

In addition to its normal Food Pantry, the Methodist Church has participated in the PADS program for the past two years.

"We saw it as part of our mission in the community," said Goetzelman.

PADS is designed to provide shelter and food overnight for those who need it. It runs from October 1 to the end of April. The Methodist church participates on Sunday nights; during November, it provided overnight shelter for 46 people and just dinner for 18 others.

"It provides a safe place to sleep overnight and get hot breakfast in the morning," said Goetzelman. "The people that come in here...are grateful to have anything at all."

The Food Pantry provides groceries for people in the Lake Villa Township-Antioch area. Eligible people receive a food basket--four bags of groceries worth $60-70.

"It helps a lot," said Goetzelman.

In addition, the Antioch Township office gave out packages for needy families during Christmas.

"We got some donations like gift certificates, and put together baskets...for families that needed it," said Township supervisor Jim Fields. "All we asked for was the address and the number of children."

Fields stated that the township has been involved in similar work for "as long as I've been here; twelve years for sure."

New organist debuts at Christmas service

Ronald A. Lemke, of Antioch, made his debut as new organist of the Church of the Annunciation of Our Lady, Waukegan, on Christmas Eve.

Lemke, who has been active in church music in the Waukegan area for 25 years, conducted the music program in the 8:30 p.m. service featuring "Hodie Christus Est Natus," by Gordon Young, "Peace, Peace" by Rick and Sylvia Powell, "Away in a Manger" arranged by Marie Pooler, and "Angels Sing" by Don Whitman. New selections were included in services on Christmas Day at 9 a.m.

Lemke, was formerly organist of St.

Anastasia Church, Waukegan, from 1975 to 1988, and organist of St. Barnabus Episcopal Church, Chicago.

He studied violin for 14 years with Edward Schwartz of the Waukesha (Wis.) Symphony, and studied organ with the Rev. Harold Schroeder, Holy Trinity Church, Oconomowoc, Wis. He has also been music director of a multi-church Lake County Choral Society.

Lemke is a graduate of the Milwaukee Hospital School of Nursing, and the Edgewater School of Radiological Technology.

Antioch Library to offer program

ACHS teams finish fall/winter season

In Antioch High School fall/winter sports, the girls' varsity tennis team finished the season with an overall winning record by defeating Grayslake 5-0 in the last dual meet of the season. The team, with a 3-5 record finished in sixth place in the Northwest Suburban Conference. Their overall record was 7-6.

The doubles' teams, in particular, had successful season. Linda Berkiel and Jodi Kempa finished the season 10-8 playing first doubles. Kristie Pomrening and Nikki Corris also finished on a winning note with a 10-9 record at second doubles.

Despite strong competition, particularly within conference, Jennifer Lenz finished the season 3-3 at second singles. In teaming with Nikki Corris at the end of the season, the girls were 2-1 and lost in the state qualifying round of sectionals, as did Berkiel/Kempa.

Berkiel and Pomrening were chosen co-captains by their teammates, and Berkiel was also selected as most valuable player. Lenz was the most improved player of the season.

The varsity volleyball team had its best conference season ever with a 9-3 record and a second place finish. For the third time in six years, ACHS won the regional. Teri Farnsworth was selected as MVP, all-area by the Pioneer Press, all-conference and co-captain. Heidi Schmidtke was chosen co-captain, all-conference and all-academic. Deanna Olenick was also selected all-conference and Kelly Damron was voted most improved player.

The varsity golf squad was made up of five seniors and five juniors. The squad members were Eric Citadino, Tim Garland, Chris Parker, Matt Pelland, Doug Windahl, Romie Johnson, Keith Harms, Dave Holbeck, Eric Shifley and Ryan Tomaschik. The varsity season record was six wins and seven losses, with a conference record of 3-5 good for seventh place in conference.

Team honors for most valuable player went to Chris Parker, team captain was Parker, and the most improved player was Doug Windahl.

In girls' golf, the '89 season saw a revitalization of the program and some individual success. The team was 4-10 this year, which was a major stride over last season. The team membership expanded almost 175 percent. The best golfer, senior Jenny Harris, placed 16th in the state meet. It was the best finish ever for a girl golfer from Antioch. Hopefully, ACHS will have almost the whole team returning next year and expand on the skills and fundamentals they have learned this year.

The 1989 varsity field hockey team finished with a record of five wins and nine losses. The team was very competitive and lost three of the games in overtime. The highlight of the season was beating second-ranked Deerfield in the last game of the regional tournament. Four key players will graduate, but ACHS has a strong group of underclassmen, which should give them a bright future.

Varsity captains were Lisa Filip and Tonya Tointon. Varsity letter winners were seniors Christy Delany, Aaryan Hauser, Michelle Rosinski and Tointon; juniors Andrea Behling, Lisa Filip, Jessica Marshall, Danielle Miller, Tasha Osmond, Susan Ozga, Nikki Walczak; and sophomores Kathy Glenn and April Kilman.

The manager, Ann Winner, also earned a varsity letter. Members of the IHSFHA all-academic team are Delany, Rosinski, Tointon, Behling, Danielle Miller, Tasha Osmond, Susan Ozga and Ann Winner. Top scorer on the team was Behling with five goals. She is also the first Antioch player to score three goals in one game.

Team honors were most valuable (Tointon) and most improved (Marshall). Other honors included three players chosen to the all-state team. They were Filip to the first team and Delany and Tointon to the second team.

The girls' cross-country team finished their season with a dual meet record of 8-2. They ran to a 8-1 record in the North Suburban Conference, and along with their second place finish at the conference meet finished in second place overall in the conference.

At invitationals throughout the season the girls ran very well. Their highlight was their first place finish at the Warren Invitational. The Lady Sequoias finished third at the state regional and qualified for the sectional meet, where they finished 16th.

Chain agency takes action

Fees hiked for boaters

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Nearly 14,000 Class B boaters on the Chain O'Lakes will find an extra $5 on their renewal forms in January.

Fees will increase from $25 to $30 on the renewal forms, the first of which will be sent the third week of January.

"It's to pick up additional costs of running dredging equipment for long hours, or areas that we may have to truck material away," John Soffietti, chairman of the agency.

Soffietti added that the agency may upgrade boat safety by helping the sheriff with more patrols, or promoting boating education.

The rate increase, approved by the Chain O'Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency, is only for Class B boats; those are boats with motors over 10 horsepower and less than 25 feet in length.

The agency, instead of increasing rates for all boaters, decided instead to limit the increase to Class B, the largest of six boat classes in terms of user fees.

Police prepare for New Year

By BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

New Year's is around the corner and area police departments are gearing up in preparation.

Chuck Miller, Antioch police chief, said that he plans to have more officers on the street for the traditional New Year's problems such as drunk driving.

"The last few years it's been going down. People don't abuse it as much as they used to; it's been quieter than 10 years ago," Miller said.

He added that trouble spots for accidents are "main intersections," such as Rtes. 83 and 173, as well as North Ave. and Main St.

Miller saw several reasons for accidents occurring on New Year's.

"There's more people apt to be abusing alcohol," Miller said.

Lizard reflects on happy holiday season

by LIZ SCHMEHL

Student of the Month
Congratulations are in order for Jenny Harris, a senior at Antioch Community High School. Jenny was recently selected "Student of the Month" by the Exchange Club of Antioch. Along with this honor, Jenny was presented a beautiful plaque, a $50 savings bond, and was treated to a delicious breakfast at Struggles on Dec. 19. Jenny's mom and dad, Ardeen and Jim, were also invited to attend the 7:15 a.m. breakfast. Congratulations, Jenny!

Gifts camera
Well, was Santa good to you? He was very, very good to the Old Lizard. Santa brought us a VHS video camera. So, people, be prepared to be immortalized on film. Once I get a camera in my hands, I do not know how to put it down.

Maybe I should hire myself out to record weddings, graduations, baptisms and the like. However, I must first learn how to take pictures of people with their heads on. I have this habit of capturing necks, shoulders, arms, legs, etc. I should go back and shoot just the heads of people and then see if I can splice the films together in order to update my film library of body parts only.

With Christmas behind us, people everywhere will soon be ringing in the new year. With the ringing in of 1990, we will be starting a new decade and, a short ten years later, we'll be ringing in a new century. It's scary how fast time flies—we are here on earth such a short time.

Don't shorten that time even further by drinking and driving as you celebrate our next holiday. If you go out to party on New Year's Eve, remember the person driving should pass up the alcoholic beverages as drinking and driving definitely do NOT mix.

When you settle in after the new year, call and share your New Year's resolutions with us all.

AARP All-Stars
Once again, the AARP All-Stars proved that golden years are truly enjoyable years as they gathered at Charley's Place on Grass Lake to enjoy their third annual Christmas party. Friends and relatives joined the happy group for this special afternoon of merriment. There was plenty of good food, champagne punch, music and dancing.

This fun-loving group of 35 youthful and vibrant senior citizens, ranging in age from 60 to 92, are oblivious to the fact that growing older sometimes means giving up some of the things one enjoys when younger. They refuse to settle back in that old rocking chair back home. They all truly enjoy each and every day of their golden years.

On Dec. 12, the AARP All-Stars Band of Antioch entertained over 200 members of their chapter and the Fox Lake Chapter at Maravella's Restaurant in Ingleside. One of the highlights of their performance was the repeat of the show they performed this year at St. Peter's Footlights show. They also performed many Christmas songs throughout the afternoon.

Happy birthday, Renate
A happy belated birthday is in order for Renate Wlezien. Sorry I missed you in the column, Renate, but I just bet that new camera you received will cheer you right up. Hey, would you like to go into the movie business with the Lizard?

Grass Lake School
The Grass Lake School yearbook committee would like to thank the following additional patrons of the 1989-90 yearbook. Due to their generosity and the generosity of the other patrons mentioned in an earlier column, the book will be offered to the students at a reasonable rate. Please remember when you visit their place of business to thank them for their patronage—The Short Cut - Sally Hiller; Lakes Area Electric Co. - Wally Henning; Hank Cook Seamless Aluminum Gutters - Tim Gwinn; Surety Insurance - Tony Santicchio. Thanks, people, we couldn't do it without your help. If you would like to be a patron in this year's yearbook, please contact the Lizard ASAP for further information.

The Grass Lake School student/faculty game held at the school on Friday, Dec. 15, was a lot of fun. The staff was victorious over the students, and Dave Tomel, the basketball coach and fourth grade teacher, happily informed me he was the "top" scorer for the staff. Teacher Carolyn Adams made a fantastic basket after the progress of the game

Lake Villa Schools' Saturday 4-H program ended with an achievement fair held at the Lake Villa Intermediate School. Fifty projects were on display and were judged by volunteer experts and awarded ribbons. One-hun-very proud that her daughter Susie is now certified to teach elementary grades K-8. Maria Bruha took a few of us over to her house to show off the most elegant Christmas tree ever. It was all done up in Mauve and crystal. It was truly pretty enough to be left up year-round.

Marian Rohde will be showing off an extra sparkly smile as she brushes her teeth with her newly acquired Santa Claus toothbrush. Renate Wlezien was so excited over the beautiful "handmade" ornament she received in our annual grab bag game, and Carol Stengel looked great in the lovely gray knit stocking cap she won in the grab bag. However, Sally Hiller wanted the hat so much that Carol gave in and gave it to her at the end of the evening.

The Lizard has a beautiful new bath towel designed especially for me by Julie Groh and Darlene Olenick.

Pat Santicchio looked so cute with her slacks tucked into her cute little Christmas anklets, and Judy Fechtner loved the new fashion tip I taught her. So, if you see Judy around town with a piece of yarn tied around her neck, you'll know who taught her how to "dress in style."

Marie Brausam was her usual bubbly self as she harassed Linda Boerman about her special attachment to a certain squishy grab bag gift.

I must give Natalie Newcomb the award for giving the most beautiful grab bag gift. I can't imagine anyone parting with such a beautiful antique.

Judy Hansen had to grin and bear the evening as she sat next to Buick Raef and watched her accumulate gift after gift, and Sandy Chinn was depressed when someone stole the squishy gift away from her.

The honorable "blooper" award for the most unique gifts received that evening must go to Renate's handmade ornament, Carol and Sally's gray knit cap, and the Lizard's specially designed bath towel.

Nicky Vandrush, a little birdie told me you lost your cap on top of the automotive display at the Antioch Jewel/Osco. I hope someone was able to get it down for you, as you will need it with this latest cold snap we are experiencing. Happy New Year, Nicky. Next time, keep that cap on your head.

Tony Przeklasa, I just wanted you to know that Sally Hiller and I have been thinking about you throughout this holiday season. We were wondering how your wife, Helen, liked the little dog you brought home on the 15th. Also, we were wondering if you gave the little creature a name yet. Don't forget, he must accompany you to ALL school board meetings.

Once again, many people are telling me how much they enjoy reading this column each week. Remember, unless you call me with your special tidbits I have nothing to write about. So, keep on calling, in order that I can keep on writing, and you can keep on reading. It has been a while since I ended this column with a few hellos in an effort to receive more tidbits. Therefore, I'd like to say hello to the following people as we prepare to ring in the new year: Hi there, Marcella Jessee, Buelliah Raef, Elaine Lasky, Babe Carfora, Florence Gofron, Lidia Olesky, Jon Utinans, Michelle Bailey, Michelle Boerman, Pam Izenstark, Hope McClement, Pat Lepsi and Rudy Kubica. Now, call me with your tidbits!

Hometown Goodies

was halted until she finally got the ball through the hoop. The third grade teacher, Sheila Brynes, made an excellent showing, and Anthony Przeklasa, superintendent, came "this" close to getting a basket—many times. Incidentally, Tony is in the market for a plain white T-shirt.

The players were cheered on by a special group of "gorgeous" cheerleaders that included Christopher Jorudd, Chris Groh, Frank Nava, Jim Schmehl, John Kasprzak and Jason (Nails) Lesko—all of the sixth grade class. Maybe they started a trend. In fact, I hope they did, since the girls always cheer the boys throughout the season. I think when the girls are playing it is only fair to have a male cheerleading squad.

I also think it's reasonable that Mr. Gavlin be their cheerleading coach, possibly assisted by Mr. Liss or Mr. Przeklasa. What do you all think?

Emmons School
Emmons School made international news as they were featured in the December/January issue of Reading Today, a publication of the International Reading Assn. Emmons was given a lengthy write-up about their month-long read-aloud program.

As part of the program, local "celebrity" readers were invited to read to the students. Among the readers were a police officer, a firefighter, a congressional representative, community theatre actors, a professional wrestler, a publisher, the Lake County superintendent of schools, a lawyer, a clown and a Vietnam veteran. What a way to go, Emmons!

4-H program
The fall session of the dred-forty youths participated in these various 4-H classes taught by 25 volunteer instructors.

Topics included small engines, computers, rockets, woodworking, electricity, cooking, baking, babysitting skills and crafts. The program represents a cooperative effort between the Univ. of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, the Lake Villa School and community volunteers.

ACHS nights
Tuesday, Jan. 9, is the eighth grade student/parent night at Antioch Community High School. And, on Thursday, Jan. 11, the second Parent Awareness Night will be held at 7 p.m. in the school commons. The topic for the evening is substance abuse. Reminders will be sent home with the students from the ACHS feeder schools.

Bic. etc. etc.
The following "wonderful" people gathered at the home of Ardeen Harris for our annual cookie exchange. It is always a pleasure meeting at Ardeen's home as her home is beautifully decorated with Christmas reminders in each and every room. In a lot of ways, Ardeen's annual cookie exchange is like a reunion as she invites a lot of old friends I do not always get the opportunity to visit with throughout the year.

It was nice to see Debbie Campbell and discover what she has been up to lately, and Pat Sherwood is still on the job as an RN and enjoying every minute of it. If you knew Pat personally, you'd realize how lucky her patients are as they are treated with an overabundance of Pat's special TLC.

Allen also informed the board of the final report from the North Central Visitation Committee, which visited the school on Dec. 5, 6 and 7, should be received by February. In general, the chairman of the committee had indicated that Antioch High School had an excellent educational program and that the major concern centered around finding additional building space and the addition of a few staff members. The full report from the North Central Committee will be presented to the board at a later date.

In other business: the board approved a resolution in support of higher school impact fees from developers which is currently being considered by the Village of Antioch. The same Developer Impact Fee structure is expected to be expected to be utilized through the district, subject to approval by the Village of Lindenhurst and Lake Villa.

The board was informed that Antioch Community High School had received an Alcohol and Drug Education Initiative Competitive Grant Award in the amount of $40,616 from the State Board of Education.

Wetlands compromise

In a year-ending compromise, the controversial Lake County Health Dept. wetlands control ordinance will undergo extensive revision and be incorporated in the Lake County Comprehensive Stormwater Management Plan due for adoption in February or March at the latest.

Conceived with the high hopes of providing a meaningful and workable document to protect the environment, the health department proposal ran into a buzz saw of opposition, mostly from municipal officials and building/developing interests featuring that the ordinance was more of a "stop growth" document. Environmentalists and controlled growth advocates saw health department jurisdiction as an opportunity to achieve a workable way of preventing mass destruction of valuable natural resources as Lake County plunges headlong into total urbanization in the 1990s.

Steve Moyland, health department environment specialist and architect of the original draft ordinance, said a unified approach to preservation of wetlands will have more advantages. With flood control and stormwater management inextricably entwined with the future and preservation of wetlands, it may come to pass, as Moyland generously put it, that by "marrying the concepts" the county will be better off.

We're not so sure. By its very nature, the health department is a proactive force, designed to be on the cutting edge of community needs and preventing problems before they begin. From the start, the Lake County Stormwater Management Planning Committee (SMPC) has approached flooding and stormwater control from basically a reactive stance, with mechanisms being put into place to deal with flooding and stormwater after the fact.

Robert W. Chave, director of the county's Dept. of Planning, Zoning and Environmental Quality, is convinced that upfront standards can be written into the stormwater plan that will give SMPC the same authority that the health department was attempting to achieve. Carroll W. Schaefer, senior planner, believes wetlands controls can be even tighter under SMPC jurisdiction. That may be so under terms of the compromise where the health department will be given enforcement authority. We'll see.

Whether wetlands control is a shotgun marriage remains to be seen. Hopefully, the unified ordinance will be the way to go. For one thing, the unified approach will silence, or at least stifle, criticism from many mayors and village trustees who insisted that wetlands control rightfully belongs with SMPC. It will be interesting to see how they react in the new year to the compromise.

Letters To

Resource report ignored

Editor:

After reading accounts of the tactics employed by the mayor of Gurnee and his village board regarding the Arbor Valley development, why am I amazed? It really is no surprise that they ignored not only the public outcry, but also the natural resource report from the Lake County Soil and Water District?

This report by experts pointed out that the Lexington Developers did not have a soil erosion plan, did plan to destroy around 70 acres of prime trees, and the loss of wetlands was a probable concern. As a result of all this, it was the opinion of these experts that flooding and water contamination of neighboring communities would occur in coming years.

After all this, why do I have the feeling that having Mayor Welton as head of the Stormwater Agency is a bit like having the proverbial fox guard the proverbial henhouse?

Love for atheist

Editor:

My family was crushed when we heard that the crosses we had enjoyed for 12 years were not to be erected this year. Instead a star would be erected in its place.

What right has this person got, coming into our town and taking away something that meant so much to us? Then the answer came. A star. It was a star that the shepherds followed to find the Baby Jesus. A star, the sign of new hope for all Christians and the sign of God's love for us.

So, Mr. Sherman, you may have taken our crosses away, but you have given us a sign of new hope. You have also established a deeper love and belief in Our God. Do you suppose Our God guided you with this in mind? A sign that he does exist? We think so.

Now when we look at the stars, we realize how Great God is and how he has allowed the atheist to make our love for him stronger.

Thompson
legacy . . .
new prisonsby JOHN S. MATIJEVICH
State Representative

On Jan. 10, Gov. James Thompson will deliver his 14th, and last, State of the State message to a joint session of the legislature. It will be a historic occasion, no other governor in Illinois serving so many years.

Gov. Thompson, I'm sure, will stress his entire tenure in office, and how he leaves the state to his successor after the 1990 election. All state-of-the-state addresses magnify the positives; this one will be especially so because it will be Thompson's last.

Surely, Thompson will avoid any call for increased taxes during his final year. No governor wants to be remembered as a "tax and spend" governor, nor will he want to leave office amid controversy over taxes. Not only that, last year's temporary income tax increase will last through another year. The state should remain "above water," although the tax mainly aided education and local governments.

On the positive side, Thompson may take credit for steering the affairs of state for 13 successive years without a major scandal in office. In good economic times, and in bad, the governor was able to "pull the political strings" to pass the necessary revenue measures to finance his programs. The state always maintained a good credit rating during Thompson's "reign."

This column is not meant to assess the governor's terms in office, although political observers are beginning to evaluate his tenure as he begins his final year. With the positives, though, a glaring negative is an anomaly. Thompson came to office as the criminal justice prosecutor who would put a dent in the problem of crime. The fact that crime is more rampant, that drugs are more prevalent than when he took office, may not be as much the fault of the governor as a sad commentary of the times.

Building prisons has been the "growth industry" during Thompson's tenure, but the worst is yet to come. Our prisons are bulging with a population of about 23,000. A recent study projects that Illinois will be required to spend $1 billion on prisons in the next five years to handle a projected population of 35,000 inmates.

Will Thompson's last year be hampered because he is a lame duck governor? I don't think so. He has been able to "build enough bridge" with political leaders in both parties to push through the goals of his administration. It would not serve the best interests of the Democrats to be portrayed as obstructionists, particularly when Thompson won't be heading the Republican ticket next year.

At the same time, Thompson knows that his record in office will be a major issue in next year's election. Democrats will try to tie Jim Edgar to Thompson where there are negatives and separate them where there are positives. Most of the "political gamesmanship" will come on the "campaign trail," though, and I don't foresee the Democrats playing politics with Thompson's budget or his program.

In the main, Gov. Thompson's State of the State speech will have an "air of the statesman." And legislators will treat his address and him with the respect that a leader of high office for such a long time really deserves.

First Night experiment due Dec. 31

by BILL SCHROEDER

Hopes are high for a successful launching of First Night in Lake County Sunday, Dec. 31, a non-alcoholic celebration in downtown Waukegan that will be a local version of approximately 30 other similar New Year's Eve celebrations across the nation.

First Night celebrations are geared for a family celebration. For a $5 festival button, revelers will have access to more than three dozen live attractions like singers, musicians, dancers, story-tellers, puppeteers and craft demonstrations.

The event is being sponsored by the Waukegan Downtown Assn. Development. Chairman Bill Barron said the cost of $60,000 will be defrayed by sale of buttons, corporate donations and a grant from the City of Waukegan.

Deborah Rakestraw, director of production, said performances will run from 6 p.m. to midnight. Waukegan Mayor Haig Paravonian is serving as general chairman.

First Night originated in Boston in 1976 as part of the bicentennial celebration. "It's sweeping the nation," exclaimed Rakestraw. Planners are getting ready for upwards of 10,000 persons.

CAUSE, EFFECT?—A group of mid-county Bear fans have come up with a rather unique theory to explain the 1989 crash of their favorite team. They trace the demise from the time Coach Mike Ditka and his family left their comfortable, upper-middle class home in Arbor Vista Subdivision on Rte. 45 for North Shore glitz in Bannockburn. The Bears were 4-0 when the Ditkas started loading the moving van. As one wag put it, "Bannockburn ain't Grabowsky." Neither are the Bears, any more. Something to think about.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Politics isn't for Rick Price. After one term on the County Board, the 36-year-old Dist. 1 representative from Lake Forest has called it quits. He didn't bother to file for re-election in 1990. Instead, he plans to devote more time to his business, Price Insurance Inc.

In parting shots at his colleagues, he said many of them are buffoons and fail to follow procedures.

He didn't single out anyone in particular.

As for procedure, he said owners of land acquired by the Forest Preserve Dist. have been treated inequitably. He also says more meetings of the district's Land Acquisition Committee should be opened to the public instead of routinely closed, as allowed by law.

Neither the Republicans nor Democrats are shedding any tears over Price's departure. Five persons are now running for two Dist. 1 openings in the March primary—three Republicans and two Democrats.

It's been at least a week since anyone heard or read about Gary Kupsak. He is the one-time Vernon Hills police officer, who became chief of police in Lindenhurst for several years before returning as chief of Vernon Hills.

In the two months Kupsak has been in his new job his name has been in print more than the mayor's, Barbara Williams. Most recently, it was for the investigation of the bludgeoning death of a Mobil service station attendant and the continuing search for his lost body.

In Lindenhurst about the only thing that made news for Kupsak was an occasional peeping Tom, the road kill of a large number of deer displaced by new subdivisions and a distraught husband who barricaded himself in a home with a shotgun. It was the shotgun incident that had some citizens calling for Kupsak's badge regarding his judgment not to call out more manpower and emergency equipment.

Kupsak really made news, though, when he assailed the Libertyville Police Dept. for luring away Lindenhurst police officers. The chief hit the roof when one of his newly-trained men was hired by Libertyville last summer.

It happened because the officer and several others on the force took the same Libertyville Police Dept. exam. The others are still on the two-year qualifying list.

Someone asked why so many Lindenhurst officers took the qualifying police exam in a neighboring community. Draw your own conclusion, they advised.

"No one said anything, least of all

Kupsak, when he left Lindenhurst suddenly to return to Vernon Hills," someone confided to me. "I guess it all depends upon whose ox is getting gored."

After 20 years of Democratic control in the Lake County clerk's office, the Republicans want a change. So they've put up a Barrington dentist named Paul M. Chung to run against eight-year incumbent Linda Hess.

To most people the word Chung might sound like the name of a good restaurant. But to the people of Barrington, it is the name of their newest park commissioner. Chung was elected last March. Which is why he is running for county clerk.

"After waiting until all hours of the morning for results in my election last spring, I decided to get more involved in Republican politics on the local level," Chung said. "I've seen the same (vote counting) job done a lot better in other parts of the country and know it can be done better here. I am the candidate who will get the job done right."

That's a mouthful of fighting words from any politician, Oriental or not.

Retired Mundelein Mayor Colin McRae says he is as Republican as they come. This comment came in reference to his interview last November for an endorsement by the Republican Central Committee.

He sought the party's spring blessing in his bid for one of the two vacancies on the County Board in Dist. 6.

McRae was quoted as saying in the interview that his support of the Republican caucus for chairman "depended on the candidate and issues."

McRae said he stands corrected. "There was really two questions on almost the same subject," he said. "On the matter of issues, I said it depended on lots of things."

As for supporting the Republican caucus selection of a chairman, McRae said he would, could and will—absolutely. That makes him as red, white and blue GOP as those who want him on the County Board.

In the McRae family are eight children—four boys and four girls. All of their first names begin with the letter C, like the word Canada where their father came from.

On the women's side there is Coleen, Cathleen, Caren and the late Cynthia. Men are Craig, Cameron, Cary and, of course, Colin, the one-time mayor of Mundelein.

Letters Invited

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain home addresses and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

"Somehow or another my parents named the first one or two children that way and just kept going without really knowing why," Colin McRae said. He admits to despising his name as a youngster. He shunned it until about age 21 when it came back into vogue.

McRae found the name Colin worked well for him in business and politics. Now, he rather likes the name and thanks his late parents whenever something good comes from it.

Robert Sherman, the Buffalo Grove atheist who makes Christmas-time headlines by attacking yule displays on public property, will go back in hiding for another year. Christmas is over.

Down will come the village hall lawn display in Mundelein and crosses in Wauconda. Sherman has tried so hard to ban.

Nothing will be heard from this small, dedicated, outspoken, anti-Christ man for another year.

But you may see him or his van. Look for the vanity plate ATHEIST. In the side window is a yellow "Atheist on board" sign. The bumper has a sticker that says, "God is make believe."

If you do see him, give him the peace sign.

The possible hotel tower is mindful of the initial reaction years back to neighbors of the then newly opened Great America. They protested to the Gurnee council that whisking roller coasters were disturbing their sleep. Now Great America has more thundering rides than ever, and no one complains a peep.

TRADITION—The holidays wouldn't be the holidays in Fox Lake without a stop at Ace Hardware where shoppers have been served glug on Christmas Eve for more than 40 years. Bill Grosse, Sr. started the glug tradition when he founded the business now operated by his son Bill, Jr.

MISSING—For the first time in 28 years, Lindenhurst will hold 12th Night services without John Janega, originator of the Christmas tree burning ceremony in his community. Funeral services were held Dec. 22 for Mr. Janega. He was involved in all sorts of civic endeavors, but 12th Night was extra special.

LAST OF LINE—The Christmas-time death of William Harrison, Sr. marked the passing of the final survivor of the quartet of fire chiefs who organized the Lake County Firemen's Assn. more than 50 years ago. The association was the forerunner of today's current mutual aid response pact in which every fire department participates.

they had collected with regard to operations at the Fox Lake Plant.

Indeed, they kept me on my toes as mayor. Together with their suggestions, assisting with grant applications, and exacting concessions from the county, they saved their constituents hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Had they succeeded in their quest for an area-wide sanitary district, they would have saved Round Lake area residents 10 times that amount. Their gain, however, would be at the expense of others, especially the county. This has earned them county board gunfire.

The Round Lake Sanitary Dist. may voluntarily dissolve or be dissolved. However, it should be with the general acknowledgement that they have served their constituents well.

'Real' Republicans

Editor:

F.T. "Mike" Graham's decision to not seek reelection to the Lake County Board was no surprise but was fully expected. His stunning defeat by a relative unknown and political newcomer to his 20 year bastion in Libertyville Twp. last spring was an early indication that the Graham-Geary gang of tax raising, land grabbing and condemnation form of county government was coming to an end.

The good and honest people of Lake County have had enough of the "rascal" Republicans and they knew it.

The retreat of the dynamic-duo has sent their disciples, Calabrese, Hansen and Reindl, scurrying to find replacements. What have they dug up? Coulson, Bieze, Leafblad and Boness, candidates lacking qualifications, ability and competence.

Lake County residents have to look at the mess the "rascal" Republican majority under Graham and Geary has created. Soaring property tax bills, the largest county budget in history, county roads snarled in traffic, a forest preserve that kills deer and locks out its residents.

The people of Lake County can trust the real Republican candidates to restore competency to county government. The professionalism, governmental experience and ability of Depke, Grever, Johnson, Klesgen, McRae and Newton are beyond reproach.

Carole and E. Ron Marovich have the perfect cure for the post-holiday blues.

Through their company, Gem Travel Center, the Maroviches can send you on anything from a day-long shopping trip, to a weekend mystery excursion to a 30-day Alaskan tour.

Formed in 1981, Gem Tours was the beginning of the Marovich's travel empire. A former tour operator, E. Ron persuaded Carole to begin her own tour company and hire him as the director of operations.

The function of Gem Tours is to pre-arrange and market any tour from a single-day motor coach trip to a 30-day West Coast excursion.

After a successful first trip of 30 days to Florida, Carole decided to expand the offerings of the growing business by opening E.C. Motor Coaches in August of 1982.

E.C. Motor Coaches is a charter bus company that operates for charter deluxe motor coaches and mini buses. The company also operates via contract with PACE, the dial-a-ride service for northeast, central and northwest Lake County and will be getting four more PACE vehicles in January.

By October of 1982, Carole had purchased her first motor coach. The businesses became too big to be run out of her home and Carole moved her company's headquarters to Hainesville.

Running Gem Tours and E.C. Motor Coaches in her spare time became too taxing for Carole, who worked full-time handling payroll for 3,000 employees at American Hospital Supply Co. She quit her job shortly after the company's expansion to devote all her time to the travel business.

In 1987, the Maroviches built housing for the Gem Travel Center on Center St. at the east end of Grayslake. They added Diamond Travel, a full-service travel agency, to make the Gem Travel Center a one-stop place for all travel needs.

Although E. Ron says business for all three companies in the Gem Travel Center comes mainly from individuals, the company serves many groups by arranging a tour through Gem Tours and chartering a bus through E.C. Motor Coaches.

"People come to us because they know we'll do a good tour and they know we'll take care of their people," E. Ron said, adding that the company has a reputation for a great safety record and tests drivers for alcohol and drugs.

One group who hires the services of the Gem Travel Center every year is the Urban League of Lake County. Escorted by E. Ron, the group takes a six-day tour of negro colleges across the country. E.

Ron says he has seen 30 of the schools so far and that he will also be doing the same type of tour for the Urban League of Omaha, Neb. after receiving a high recommendation by Lake County's Urban League.

A popular trip for individuals is the mystery tour. One mystery tour took travelers to Hannibal, Mo. to see the home of Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer.

E. Ron said Gem Tours won't plan a day with an extended period of time spent driving, and that it also likes to give travelers some free time to explore on their own or just relax.

One of the biggest problems with tours, E. Ron said, is dealing with problems on the road such as lost reservations or misquoted prices by hotels and restaurants. He said the entire industry has the problem because the employee turnover rate is so high and because rate changes fluctuate frequently.

The Maroviches are excited about a new tour they are planning for this summer. The trip will take travelers on a 14-day excursion to Alaska by bus, boat and plane.

E. Ron says the low cost of the company's tours may surprise some people. The tour packages are not marketed through travel agents so that no commission is paid to them.

"We try to keep the tour cost within reachable means," E. Ron said.

The bottom line on small business

If you plan to join the ranks of small business owners, here are some tips on how you can reduce the impact that taxes may have on your bottom line.

Cash vs. Accrual Accounting

According to the Illinois CPA Society, every small business must elect a tax accounting method - the set of rules that dictates when and how to report taxable income and deductions.

The two most common methods are cash and accrual. Under the cash method, a business reports income when the cash is received and deducts expenses when the cash is paid out, a method similar to that used by most individuals in computing their personal taxes.

Under the accrual method, income has to be reported when the goods are sold or services are rendered, and expenses are deducted when obligations are incurred.

If your business maintains an inventory, the choice of a tax accounting method is predetermined: you must use the accrual basis with respect to the inventories. Cash-basis accounting is generally limited to self-employed persons, S Corporations, professional service corporations and partnerships. But any small business with annual gross receipts of $5 million or less may still use the cash method.

S Corporations

When individual tax rates were lowered as a result of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, they dropped below corporate rates for the first time in history. This change prompted many small business owners to consider altering their legal structure to take advantage of the lower individual rates. One way to accomplish this goal is by electing S Corporation status, which offers the legal advantages of a corporation without requiring payment of corporate taxes. In an S Corporation, the corporation itself is generally not taxed; income passes to shareholders in proportion to their ownership and is taxed at personal rates.

Obviously, S Corporations are not for everyone. Keep in mind that an S Corporation can have no more than 35 shareholders and all must be citizens or residents of the United States. Only one class of stock can be offered by an S Corporation, and neither corporate shareholders nor company-owned incorporated subsidiaries are allowed.

Depreciation

The 1986 law also affected the way a business depreciates such assets as office equipment and fixtures. You can still write off the cost of equipment over a period of years, but you must now do so at a slower pace, with smaller deductions each year. This depreciation method, known as the modified accelerated cost recovery system (MACRS), lists various classes of business property. Class lives run from a low of three years to a high of 31.5 years for real property, such as office buildings and warehouses.

An alternative to depreciation is the $10,000 expensing allowance. Instead of depreciating the cost of business property over a period of years, a small business may write off the first $10,000 worth of items purchased during the year. With expensing, you can take a larger deduction in the year the asset is placed in service than you could take if you opt for the MACRS method. However, the deduction may not exceed the total taxable income from all businesses which an owner actively conducts.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What is glaucoma? Can it cause blindness?

ANSWER: Glaucoma results from excessive pressure on the optic nerve in the back of the eye, created by excessive build-up of the natural fluid inside the eye. It's the second leading cause of blindness among people over the age of 40. Fortunately, with early diagnosis and treatment this problem can almost always be controlled and blindness prevented.

The fluid keeps the eye from collapsing. As fresh fluid is produced, the excess drains out through a meshwork of tissue. If this drainage path is blocked, pressure builds and begins to damage the optic nerve which carries visual images from the eye to the brain. Gradually, peripheral or side vision is lost. Eventually the glaucoma victim can only see straight ahead through "tunnel vision." Over time all sight may be lost. Previous damage cannot be reversed but when glaucoma is diagnosed it can be treated with eye drops or medication. If this is not successful, laser surgery may be used to open up the tissue to provide proper fluid drainage.

Be There

It's almost time for the traditional amateur drinker's night out, the biggest party night of the year, on Sunday, Dec. 31, except for Super Bowl Sunday.

In the last few years, with all the publicity being given to the strong drive against drunken driving, many people, who enjoy a good drink, prefer to make their New Year's celebration one that includes an overnight stay, either at a motel or hotel near the celebration site, or one included in a holiday weekend package.

Just watch the ads, it still may not be too late to get in on a Holiday Inn, or other recreation resort overnight plan which for one flat fee per person will include a room, dining out, and most important of all, reservations for the resort's special gala which usually includes party favors and sometimes even early New Year's morning breakfast.

The idea of partaking in a delicious brunch on Monday, Jan. 1, to put a cap on the New Year's fest is also often included on resort guests' agenda.

So if you've decided to live it up this Sunday, try making reservations as soon as possible.

Area restaurants and resorts are offering several special plans, at varying prices, perfect for welcoming in the New Year.

For $35 per couple, the Antioch Bowl on Rte. 173 is offering a Fun Bowl Party which includes rolling three games of High-Low and Scotch Doubles, four drinks a couple, two entree buffet dinners in the Tower Room upstairs, unlimited bowling until 2 a.m. and party favors.

At Leisure Point in Fox Lake, there will be a special New Year's Eve menu with three dinner seatings at 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Live entertainment and free favors will be there for everyone's enjoyment.

At Rick's Waterfall Restaurant, in Fox Lake, it's time to kiss the New Year hello to the strains of Sounds of Music.

Alexis on the Lake in Vernon Hills will be giving away champagne and soft drinks.

Other interesting sounding package deals can be found at the Normandie in Gurnee with entrees of prime rib and filet mignon and the Grand Hotel in Wauconda has a dinner/party package for $24.95.

For years, your columnist spent New Year's at the Stage Stop in Wilmet, Wis., where the main game of the day is dining on some of Nancy and Ron Hackett's delicious steak or lobster, complete with homemade salad dressings, not to mention the interesting people one meets sitting around the large circular bar!

Of course, if the arctic temperatures desist by then, many of the avid skiers in the area will want to welcome 1990 doing their favorite thing at Wilmet Mt. with sipping a hot toddy in the lodge while watching the skiers swoosh down the hills, an extra added attraction.

Anyone who is in that area this weekend might go just a bit farther west to the LaSalette Shrine's last nights of the LaSalette Shrine's Festival of Lights, a breathtaking sight to see.

Don't forget to make those New Year's resolutions on Jan. 1! Try making twice as many as you intended and maybe you can keep half of them!

'Red Shoes' at Marriot

Hans Christian Anderson's 'Red Shoes' is a wonderful way to introduce youngsters to the joys of the theater. This hour-long production, part of Marriot Lincolnshire's Theatre for Young Audiences program, is a well-proportioned mix of singing, dancing and comedy that holds everyone's attention. Andrew Lupp dances the part of Jemmo the Clown, who speaks not a word but is able to speak volumes with his miming, dancing and pratfalls. The show is performed most weekdays at 10 a.m., Saturdays and school holidays at 11 a.m. through Jan. 2.

Ravinia gets new exec. director

In a special announcement to the board of trustees at the Ravinia Festival's Annual Meeting, Chairman William J. McDonough announced that Zarin Mehta, managing director of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra, has accepted the position of Ravinia's executive director and chief operating officer, succeeding Edward Gordon who has held the position for the past 22 years.

Both Gordon and McDonough have been members of the Ravinia Search Committee, which also included Trustees Robert F. Reusche and Stanley M. Freehling.

In his announcement, McDonough said, "Mr. Mehta's acceptance of the Ravinia position reflects his understanding and appreciation of the Ravinia Festival's international reputation that has soared during the past two decades under the direction of Edward Gordon. Mr. Mehta is looking forward to developing a strong artistic bond with Ravinia's Music Director James Levine. In coming to Ravinia he will be in a position in an organization of artistic stability, great potential for growth, and one that is financially sound in an especially beautiful environment. He is looking forward to residing in a city culturally rich, architecturally stimulating, and yet to be working in the sumptuous beauty of Highland Park."

Mehta has been managing director of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra since 1981. Prior to occupying this post he served on the MSO Board of Directors and later was named vice president of the orchestra.

In 1981, he was granted an indefinite leave of absence from the international accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand where he continues to be a partner, to assume the post of managing director, devoting his full time to the management of Orchestra affairs.

Since Mehta became managing director of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra, the subscriptions have increased from 14,772 to 25,500, the operating budget has gone from $5 million to $15 million, fundraising has increased five-fold, and operating revenues have more than tripled. Four concert series have been developed and the summer season activities have doubled. There has been syndication of MSO concerts through WFMT (Chicago) on 200 radio stations each year since 1985.

Mehta was born in Bombay in 1938 and enjoyed a great musical life in India. His father, Mehli Mehta, a violinist-conductor who had studied accounting, founded and conducted the Bombay Symphony before moving to England where he joined the Halle Orchestra of Manchester, inspiring both sons in choosing their own careers - Zubin in the music world and Zarin in the business world.

He was named Member of the Order of Canada in January, 1987.

Resolve for 1990 to spend less

"While relatively few American families are in debt so far that they can't get out of it, many more are coming close," says Irene Green, Lake County Extension adviser. And it seems that right after the holidays is the time consumers find themselves wondering how those credit card bills got so high.

One rule of thumb to tell if you've reached your credit-debt limit is if your monthly payments, excluding your home mortgage payment, exceed 20 percent of your after-tax or take-home pay. Other indications that you are heading toward or have already reached your limit are any of the following warning signals:

- you are making only minimum payments on your monthly credit accounts;
- you have to use credit for expenses that you once paid cash for;
- you have used a series of consolidation loans or other types of loans in an effort to pay overdue bills;
- you find it difficult if not impossible to save even small amounts;
- you have more and more trouble each month stretching your budget to make ends meet;
- you are borrowing from one lender to pay another; for example, you take a cash advance on your bank card to pay amounts owed other banks or retailers;
- you begin to run a few days late on critical payments, such as your rent or mortgage payment, or you are consistently late with all your bill payments;
- you rely on working overtime, or on a second job, to pay bills; or
- you are denied credit.

Do any of these statements describe you? If so, why not resolve for 1990 to slow down. Better yet, stop taking on more debt.

Next, examine your expenses and see if there are any places where you can cut spending, so you can free more money to meet your monthly payments. Keep track of your expenses for a month or two to see where your money is going. Those little things you spend money on without much thought can add up to hundreds of dollars a year. Take a look at your spending. Is your money going where you want it to go.

In some cases you may want to approach one or more of your lenders and try either to reduce or defer monthly payments without having to pay a penalty. Many stores let you defer the January payment on your credit card; however, you generally still have to pay interest on the total unpaid balance.

Be honest in explaining your cash flow problem and ask the lender if they can help you get back on your feet. While there is no guarantee that lenders will agree to this arrangement, the worst thing that you can do is try to avoid them or to make promises to pay that you can't keep.

In more extreme cases, you may want to contact a credit union or consumer credit counseling service, such as the one in Peoria, that can help you set up a new budget. It's best not to wait too long because lenders have rights under state law to try to obtain payment. That could be through repossession of the item, such as a stereo or a car, or even obtaining a court order to garnish your wages. Lenders are also very likely to report your delinquent payments to a credit reporting agency. So give yourself a present this year: resolve to get on the right track so you can begin saving toward what you want most out of life.

7-Eleven joins MADD, free coffee

7-Eleven stores in Illinois and northwest Indiana want to help reduce the number of highway crashes caused by drivers falling asleep at the wheel this New Year's Eve by offering them a free cup of coffee.

According to current estimates, more than 20 percent of all drivers have fallen asleep at the wheel at least once. Sleep expert Dr. William Demet of Stanford Univ. says that 200,000 to 400,000 highway mishaps are caused by drowsy drivers. The crashes result in 10,000 to 15,000 deaths and inflict tens of thousands of serious injuries.

The National Safety Council (NSC) also states that drowsy driving is a problem. Says James Solomon, administrator of training for Driver Improvement Programs at the NSC, "I can agree that it is a large problem on certain highway systems."

7-Eleven will give away free 12 oz. cups of coffee between the hours of 11 p.m. New Year's Eve and 7 a.m. New Year's Day.

"The free coffee program is another way that 7-Eleven is trying to make the holidays happier by making them safer," said Jim Maxwell, Chicago division manager for 181 7-Eleven stores in Illinois and northwest Indiana.

"It is a natural extension of 7-Eleven's support of Mothers Against Drunk Driving's Project Red Ribbon, which encourages motorists to drive sober. And, we want to do our part in helping people stay alert when they are on the road."

"We are pleased to be associated with 7-Eleven in our efforts to reduce drunk driving crashes," said Marty Page, MADD Illinois, state administrator. "We all want to make the holidays a safety and happier time of the year."

This is the second year that 7-Eleven stores have joined with MADD, a national organization dedicated to reducing the number of alcohol-related crashes and deaths by preventing drunk driving, to make the holidays safer.

IDOT awards at Bog

The Illinois Dept. of Conservation staff at Volo Bog State Natural Area presented awards to 19 volunteers for their contributions to the site in 1989. All the individuals were awarded Certificates of Recognition signed by Gov. James R. Thompson and the Illinois Dept. of Conservation's Dir. Mark Frech.

Nine of the volunteers received Centurian Award plaques in addition to the certificates for over 100 hours contributed during the past year.

The 1989 Volunteer of the Year Award was presented to Kathy Phelan of Lake Zurich for her outstanding dedication to Volo Bog State Natural Area. She has devoted nearly 140 hours to youth programs, display development, guided tours, wood duck trail monitoring and many other projects.

Because of the dedication of so many fine individuals, Volo Bog SNA is not only better able to maintain and develop the site, but can provide expanded educational opportunities to the public as well.

Guided tours of Illinois' only remaining open-water, quaking bog are led by trained volunteer naturalists on Saturdays and Sundays throughout the year.

Special programs are arranged for youth groups, school classes and special interest groups such as garden clubs, birding clubs, and other interested organizations.

Located in the northwest corner of Lake County, the Volo Bog State Natural Area contains 870 acres of glacial landscape.

Cruising, is it for you? Some straight talk

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Walk into any travel agency and say you want to spend about 3 to 7 days in the Caribbean and most likely a cruise will be suggested. There are good reasons for both you and the agency.

With the competition among cruise lines, you'll find cruises to be an excellent value. The agent also likes to sell cruises for some reasons of his own.

Frankly, even though cruises are a bargain, meals and entertainment which are included in the price are not normally items for which the travel agent would get a commission. Also, a travel agent does not have to worry about changing conditions of hotels in the Caribbean. A property which the agent visited a year ago and found to be in good repair could have had staff problems and become run down very quickly. Cruise ships only get better.

Let's get to the facts:

Pro: A cruise ship offers all the comforts of home after your day on the island.

Con: You may not get the real flavor of the islands by not staying on the island.

Pro: Most cruise itineraries allow you to sample several islands in a week's time, without having to unpack.

Con: You may want to spend more time on one island than the ship's schedule allows.

Pro: The meals on a cruise are of excellent quality, and you can feel safe "drinking the water."

Con: Since your meals are included, you may feel a need to eat on the ship rather than sampling the local restaurants.

Is a cruise for you? Only you can really decide. Either way, cruises are a very affordable way to visit the islands.

Celebrate safely, try these drink recipes

'Tis the season to be jolly and share good times with friends and family. But too much merrymaking can end in tragedy on the ride home if you drink and drive.

"A lot of people enjoy a 'cup of cheer' during the holiday season," said Timothy H. Osmond of Osmond Insurance Service, Ltd., in Antioch. "If you do, please let someone else drive you home! The consequences of drinking and driving can be severe."

Imagine how you'd feel if a guest at your party was involved in a car accident, or cited for "driving under the influence" on their way home. One good way to help make sure your guests arrive home in one piece is to provide flavorful, non-alcoholic drinks at your party.

Osmond suggests the following three tasty, tried and true beverages: one hot, one cold and one traditional eggnog. "The recipes are easy, and the ingredients common," he said.

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

When it's time for hats and horns, confetti and conviviality; it must be getting close to New Year's Eve.

Giving a party can be as much fun as going to one. You don't have to be a blue ribbon chef to produce a spectacular meal consisting of all appetizers. Most can be made ahead and brought out just before your guests' arrival; others may need that final touch at the last minute.

So ... out with the old—in with the new. Happy New Year, 1990!

It seems like only yesterday my Dad made his first Cheese Apple for us to enjoy one New Year's Day. One of his passions was setting out a decorated card table loaded with lots of hors d'oeuvres or "pick-up" food. I don't think watching the bowl games would ever have been as much fun.

Cheese Ball (or Cheese Apple)

- 4 oz. Bleu cheese
- 4 oz. cream cheese
- 4 oz. butter
- 1 garlic clove, crushed

Set out the above ingredients in bowl to warm to room temperature. Mix thoroughly with fork until well mixed. Cover and set in refrigerator until stiff (1 hour). Remove, butter hands and form ingredients into a ball. Place ball on plate and cover with paprika to give appearance of an apple. Place artificial leaf atop the cheese ball.

Store in refrigerator. Serve at room temperature with crackers.

A delicate seafood flavor in this beautiful salmon-colored mousse. Place on a lettuce-lined serving platter and garnish with extra cooked, peeled large shrimp. Put on crackers and enjoy!

Crab and Shrimp Mousse

- 1 pkg. unflavored gelatin
- 5 tsp. water
- 1 can tomato soup
- 8 oz. cream cheese
- 8 oz. frozen crab meat
- 6 oz. frozen cooked shrimp, chopped
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 cup celery, diced
- 1/2 cup onion, diced

Bring soup to boil, dissolve gelatin in 5 tsp. cold water. Add to the boiling tomato soup. Add cream cheese and mayonnaise, stirring to blend. Add crab, shrimp, celery and onion. Mix well. Put in well-greased mold. Refrigerate to firm. Unmold on serving platter and enjoy with crackers.

This is a recipe that can be prepared ahead, but heated just before company comes. It is tasty scooped up on crackers, and can be eaten hot or cold.

Hot Artichoke Dip

- 1 16-oz. can artichoke hearts, drained
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup plain yogurt, drained
- 1 cup Parmesan cheese, grated
- Dash of paprika

Place drained artichoke hearts in bowl and, with fork, mash well. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Pour into greased over-proof dish; sprinkle with paprika and bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes.

STEER THIS WAY

Run out of windshield washer fluid? Here's a temporary home-made substitute: mix 1/2 cup ammonia or vinegar, 1 teaspoon liquid detergent, and 2 or 3 cups of rubbing alcohol in a gallon container, then fill with water.

Squeaks from car doors, hood or trunk? It could be that the hinges just need a little lubrication.

Rear-wheel skid is most common, as the back of the car moves out of control. Important: stay off the brakes! Turn the wheel in the direction the rear end is sliding. If you overcorrect, you may have to go through this procedure several times. Stay cool!

Why note mileage and gas consumption at each fillup? Because a drop in miles-per-gallon may be a tip-off that the engine is undergoing a loss of compression or some other problem is developing.

Auto accident far from home? It's smart to contact your insurance agent who may be able to recommend a reliable repair shop that meets your insurer's standards. It will make reimbursement from the insurance company much easier.

Here's wishing you a Happy New Year! Let's all hope for a happy, healthy, safe-on-the-road 1990—

Keep holiday cheer from turning into holiday fear

by GARRY LA VINE
Lakeland Newspapers

You're driving along a country road, or maybe a city street and you know you've had a "few too many" when ZAP, it happens. In a foggy haze you see the flash of the police officer's brightly colored warning lights; with the help of his radar gun he's clocked you going too fast for conditions. Like the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come, the purpose of this article is to show you what's in store for you in this nightmare you've just awoken to.

Maybe the officer who has apprehended you might be Sgt. Dempsey W. Leith from the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. If so, Sgt. Leith might ask to see your driver's license and may suspect you of being intoxicated. Then he might ask you to step out of your vehicle and he might administer one of the three Field Sobriety Tests that he is empowered by law to do. Maybe it will be the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus Test, which, according to Sgt. Leith, measures "the involuntary jerking of the eyes." Or maybe it will be the Walk and Turn Test, where the subject is instructed to walk a prescribed number of steps, heel to toe, turn a certain way and come back a prescribed number of steps. Or Sgt. Leith may ask you to try the One Leg Stand Test, where you stand on one leg (your choosing) holding your foot six inches off the ground and look down at your other toe, keeping your hands at your sides and counting loud from one to 30. These so-called divided attention test results are then entered on the Lake County Sheriff's Alcohol and/or Drug Influence Report. But the best is "yet to come."

At the officer's discretion he may wish to try more technical measures. But first, you might say, what's the big deal? What's the harm in having a good time? The adjoining chart should give a clue.

Getting back to our testing procedure in progress, before any machine test is given, the individual must be visually observed for a period of 20 minutes. This waiting time helps to dissipate the effects of any alcohol that might be present in cough syrups or mouthwash that might be present on the subject's breath. During this time, the officer might prepare one of the portable units designed to measure the blood alcohol content. Registering a Pass or Fail signal, the units are very useful in circumstances where a bigger unit is not readily available. In any case, the officer is required to administer the test within three hours and often will transport the subject back to Headquarters at 25 S. Utica in Waukegan. Here, the Intoxilator Model 4011AS or the Toximeter 3000 is ready and waiting!

Upon arriving at the testing room, a rather stark, small area, the suspect is required to stand against the wall, reach over the machine, and blow into a tube which projects out about 12-15 inches. While bending over the unit, you are told to inhale "deep down into your lungs" and blow into the tube for about six or seven seconds. The replaceable mouthpieces are supplied fresh out of the package to insure their sterilization.

The machine then registers, in bright red LED's (Light Emitting Diodes) the percentage of blood alcohol content (BAC). If the reading is .10 or more, then you are legally deemed to be intoxicated.

And what happens if you refuse to take the test? According to the Illinois Revised Statutes as explained by Sgt. Leith, "They automatically lose their driving privileges for six months...and that is just an administrative view. When they go to court, they can lose their license indefinitely." If the subject takes the test and blows a .10 or more, their license will automatically be suspended for three months, subject to the prerogative of the Secretary of State and the courts.

And what happens if you try to fool the machine with substances like acetone, etc.? According to Sgt. Leith, "No, you cannot fool the machine. It has built-in safety features." So, whether you take the test or not, if you are intoxicated you will lose your license for at least three months, but you can also be fined up to $1,000 and you might spend the next 365 days staring at the walls of a jail cell. And that's not including the $1,500 to $3,000 that you'll have to fork over to an attorney. So the next time you're ready to celebrate, give these things some consideration.

The choice is yours. Take a cab, use a designated driver for the evening or stay home. But DONT DRINK AND DRIVE!

Courtesy of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation Traffic Safety Div. and the Illinois State Police Crime Studies Div. In just three years, 58 lives have been lost during Christmas/New Year's holidays, and almost 5,000 people have been injured. And that is just for a one-week period in Illinois alone! Multiply that by 50 states and those statistics become mind-boggling. True, not all of these accidents are a direct result of alcohol or drug abuse, but they certainly contribute more than their fair share.

Lakeland residents due tax refund checks

The Internal Revenue Service is trying to locate some residents who are due a refund from their Federal income tax returns.

According to R. S. Wintrobe, Jr., IRS Dist. Director for northern Illinois, 2,847 refund checks worth $1,417,891.77, an average of over $498 were returned by the Postal Service as undeliverable in this area. The refund checks are for 1988 and earlier returns. Nearly 300 taxpayers have refund checks in excess of $1,000 waiting to be claimed, including 11 who have checks over $5,000. The largest two checks are for $59,720 and $37,373. The checks are for individuals only.

Wintrobe noted that the taxpayers may have moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the IRS, put the wrong mailing address on their return, or the handwriting may simply be illegible.

When a refund is returned by the Postal Service, the IRS attempts to find the taxpayer and deliver the checks, but there are always some who cannot be found.

Wintrobe said that one way to prevent this from happening in the future is to file electronically. If you file electronically, you can have your refund deposited directly into your bank account. This service is not available for those who mail their return to IRS.

The following is a list of residents in the Lakeland area who have undelivered refund: Michael Reeves, Antioch; Uriel Martinez, Antioch; Ashley Gordon, Barrington; Elvira Locke, Barrington Hills; Martha Nelligan, Barrington; John Pinkley, Barrington; Burnett W. Teams from the College of Lake County placed first and second in the Northern Illinois Regional College Bowl competition, which tests students' academic knowledge. The two teams placed ahead of seven other community colleges in the competition held at McHenry Community College in Crystal Lake. Team members include (from left): Tanya Rice of Round Lake (second place); Don Richards of Mundelein (first place); Jake Doruiter of Lindenhurst (captain of second place team); Jason Fout of Wadsworth (second place); and Jim Ziels of Mundelein (first place). Lakeland Newspapers Lake County At A Glance

Signing nears

LAKE ZURICH—A long-awaited sewage treatment agreement between Lake Zurich, Kildeer and several area developers is expected to be signed by the end of next week, Lake Zurich Mayor James Kay said. "I feel confident it's close," Kay said of the signing. "It's good way to start the year."

Geo-Karis reports

ZION—State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) reports that $1 million in state funds has been released by Gov. James Thompson for a dredging project for the Fox River and Chain O'Lakes. The money will pay the state's share of costs to implement the Comprehensive Dredging and Disposal Plan for the waterways. She also said the governor approved spending of $173,000 for improvements at the Waukegan Development Ctr. That money will be used to replace ceramic tile and renovate 48 shower stalls in 24 residential buildings.

Spanish program

LAKE VILLA—The superintendent and board of education of Lake Villa Dist. 41 are doing their part to give that district's students a bi-lingual education. Second and third graders in Lake Villa School Dist. 41's B.J. Hooper School may be learning to communicate in Spanish if the board institutes a proposed Saturday Spanish program. The program, which will be run by the Berlitz Company, will be costing the district $2,500 per each 25 students for a 10-week course. So far, Supt. Peter Palombi says there are 44 students interested in taking the course. A public meeting during which Berlitz will be making a presentation will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 17 at 7 p.m. Interested parents are encouraged to attend. If the board votes in favor of the program, it will begin in February.

State buying land

ISLAND LAKE—A state of Illinois agency wants to clean up the Fox River but must acquire sites along its right of way so they can deposit the mud to dry before its hauled away. Among the two-dozen sites selected by officials of the Waste Management Agency, to dump the sludge, is the tiny village of Holiday Hills with a population less than 1,000. The village is within the jurisdictional limits of Island Lake.

Vote on new school

MUNDELEIN—Members of Fremont School Dist. 75 scheduled a special session for Friday, Dec. 29, to plan a $3.5 million building bond referendum for the March election ballot. The money will fund a new 16-room school at a site to be announced. This tax proposal follows a successful sixth consecutive try in November to increase the educational tax rate 55-cents to $1.82 per $100 of assessed evaluation. School officials say the new building is needed to accommodate a projected 44 percent enrollment increase for the 1990-91 school year—rising from the current 592 students to 852.

Humanitarian dies

LINDENHURST—The Village of Lindenhurst lost a great citizen and humanitarian with the passing away of John Janega Jr., 73, last week. An area resident for 34 years, Janega was a member of St. Mark Lutheran Church in Lindenhurst, a charter member of the Lake Villa Twp. Lions Club and recipient of the Melvin Jones Fellowship Award. Janega headed the committee to give food baskets to the needy during the holidays. A member of the U.S. Army Air Corp in World War II, he was also in the Lake Villa American Legion and VFW Post 4308. Janega is survived by his wife Betty; four brothers, Rudolph, Charles, Edward and Richard; and two sisters, Helen Krob and Marie Jankovec.

Annexation OK

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Mayor Marv Smith is supporting the annexation of more than 800 acres into the Village of Grayslake. The property in question is known as the Central Range area, which was originally part of the Heartland court dispute. "It is a very low density development with a lot of open space and will give the village control over its boundaries," Smith said.

Banner building year

LINCOLNSHIRE—Lincolnshire officials expect to have a banner year for construction in 1990. The village may issue about 500 building permits for residential and commercial development, compared to 340 issued in 1989. Community Development Director Mark Welter said 1989 was a peak year for review and approval, while the new year will be a banner year for construction. Included among the building plans includes a 139-room hotel and a Walker Brothers pancake restaurant on Milwaukee Ave. and Marriott Dr., a 14,000 square-foot warehouse/office building in the Lincolnshire Business Center and a 300,000 square-foot six-story office building for Hewlett Associates. In addition, 180 single family homes are planned, with the majority of homes geared for the empty nesters. Those residents will have the luxury of owning a home with the conveniences of a condominium.

Groups help needy

GRAYSLAKE—Two Grayslake groups spent the final days before Christmas not rushing to buy presents, but helping two groups which appreciated it. The Grayslake Lions Club completed its 30th annual Christmas Food Basket program on Dec. 21 by distributing the baskets to the needy. Some 21 Lions Club members delivered the baskets along with friends and 11 Grayslake Community High School students.

Under investigation

WAUKEGAN—A spokesman in the regional office of the Illinois Atty. Gen. confirmed that John Curtis of Gurnee, former owner of Howdy Marine, Fox Lake, is being investigated in connection with five consumer complaints regarding title irregularities involving the sale of boats. The Chicago office is investigating three complaints.

Park sets meeting

GURNEE—The Gurnee Park Dist. Board of Commissioners will be meeting in special session Jan. 9. According to Gurnee Park Dist. Dir. Betty Russell, the commissioners are expected to discuss land acquisition in executive session and discuss which wetland properties in the proposed Zale Group development the park will take title to. The board will meet at Viking Park Hall at 7:30 p.m. The village of Gurnee will hold a public hearing on the Zale Planned Unit Development (PUD) Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at Viking Junior High School.

Talk water woes

PARK CITY—Park City has found where it had previously been losing some revenue from water use. Mayor Rob Allen told city council members that three sources had accounted for much of the water lost in the past year. These include Palmiri's mobile home park, Ready Mix Enterprise and Midway and Farmington Estates Mobile Home Parks. The aldermen were told improvements could cost up to $250 per water meter plus parts. When warmer weather comes, it would be necessary to shut down the water for four hours in Midway.

Golf is popular

LIBERTYVILLE—Riverside Park Golf Course, which was acquired by the village eight years ago, had a record-setting season in 1989. Golfers played 22,255 rounds, eight percent more than the previous record year of 1985. To reduce pressure on the course, league play will be banned in prime time (after 3 p.m.) in 1990 and golf fees will be increased 50 cents to $1 across the board. The new daily rates are $4.50 for adult residents and $5.50 for adult non residents to $5 and $6, respectively, on weekends.

Gurnee firemen battle two residential fires

Gurnee Fire Dept. personnel battled two fires Saturday and one Wednesday morning.

The first fire Saturday occurred at 3936 Woodlawn. An estimated $5,000 damage was done when a towel was pushed near a vent and a light bulb was ignited.

The occupant, Richard Ohlinger, used a portable extinguisher to help fight the fire.

"He did a lot of things right. The extinguisher slowed it down," Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said of the fire.

The second Saturday fire happened at 11:56 p.m. at 902 Clark. The building was a rental unit owned by Tim Wilson of Kennilworth. One resident, John Zapala, suffered second degree burns on his right hand in the fire place fire.

The cause is under investigation and damage listed at $10,000.

Stephen Groat admitted to police starting a fire in an abandoned building at 800 Depot Rd. Wednesday.

McGrath said Gurnee police brought Groat in for questioning after footprints in the snow matched Groat's.

The damage was estimated at $500.

Ashtray fire in Heritage medical building

By BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

A newspaper fire at the Heritage Medical Center at 800 N. Main in Antioch filled the building with smoke at about 2 p.m. on Dec. 26.

The fire, caused by a cigarette in a pile of newspapers, was put out a few minutes later by some women working at the office.

No one was injured and the fire department was not called.

"It was stopped before much damage was done but it could have taken out a whole wing," said Ron Clatz, a doctor at the center.

"There was no damage at all," said Lisa Pasko, one of the women who put out the fire. "It was in the ashtray and it started smoking a lot."

"They aired out the building and that was it," said Clatz.

Maintenance worker helps save resident

A Mundelein resident has been discharged from St. Therese Hospital after a Lake County Division of Highway worker helped save his life.

"My deputy chief said if he would of stayed out there much longer, he would not have made it," Newport Fire Dept. Chief John Ryckman.

Highway Division worker John Anderson rescued Don Fenner from a mishap off Kilbourne Rd.

A spokesman for St. Therese Hospital said Fenner was released Saturday.

Al Giertych, director of maintenance, said the situation began when Anderson was on snow patrol taking care of snow drifts in the Kilbourne Rd. area.

Anderson first saw two vehicles off the side of the road, but did not take action at first. Then, after completing his route, he saw a person underneath one of the vehicles waving his arm.

"John is the type of person that always is looking out for someone in trouble," Giertych said.

Anderson then pulled his vehicle over, radioed the maintenance department to ask for the rescue squad. The chest area of Fenner was caught underneath the truck. Anderson relieved torque pressure by turning off the ignition.

Anderson asked the victim if he had a knife so some of his clothing could be freed. Fenner did and Anderson was freed.

Correction

Howard Bieze, a Wauconda Twp. Republican committeeman who has filed for election to the Lake County Board in Dist. 6, was incorrectly identified as a state mental health employee in the Dec. 22 issue. Bieze is actually employed in the engineering department at the Waukegan Development Center.

Waste Management video tapes available

Two panel discussions on "Waste Management Begins at Home" were held to inform county residents about the new Lake County Waste Management Plan and its implementation.

Video tapes of each of the programs are available to county residents who missed the programs but would like to view them in their own home.

The first program focused on things a homeowner can do to recycle and compost home and yard waste. The blue-ribbon panelists were: Bill Barron — Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency; Lee Addlemann — Recycling Coordinator, Waste Management of North America; George Brabec — Resource Recovery Coordinator, Land and Lakes Co.; Jeanne Becker — Consultant, Jeanne F. Becker and Associates; Don Bates — Illinois Dept. of Energy.

The second program was designed to inform municipal officers about several successful recycling and composting programs in Northern Illinois.

Speakers for this program were Jeanne F. Becker, George Brabec, Lee Addlemann, Don Bates plus Dick Whittington, director of Environment and Recycling, Village of Grayslake; Michael A. Flynn, administrative assistant, Village of Mundelein; Gerald R. Peterson, assistant administrator, Village of Libertyville; and Lee Szymborski, assistant village manager, Village of Buffalo Grove.

Both programs were sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

The video tapes are being made available by Waste Management of Lake County. Those wishing to borrow them may call Barbara Dahl at (708) 223-8627.

Planning a beautiful wedding

Can you organize a traditional wedding for this summer if you've just become engaged? Most bridal guides advise allowing six months to a year to attend to the many details.

For those who want to plan a celebration in a hurry, here are a few tips to speed up the planning timetable without sacrificing the dream of a lovely wedding. The key is efficiency and organization:

- Network to whittle down options. It won't be possible to visit every wedding vendor in the area. Instead, ask friends and business associates for specific recommendations. Then ask florists or photographers they've put you in contact with for their referrals.

- Attend a bridal show, if possible, to take advantage of the multiple ideas and services gathered in one place.

- Manage your time. Assign a priority to each wedding task, then make lists of things to do and update them each day. Take notes each step of the way, writing down estimates, impressions, names. By relying on memory alone, you may end up retracing steps and forgetting important details.

- Postpone tasks, when appropriate. Pen thank-you notes now to your attendants, but shop for their gifts on your honeymoon.

- Delegate. Willing friends and family members can be lifesavers. Does your mother love to shop? She might scour stores for bridesmaid's gifts. Your father could arrange for the invitation printing and order the liquor. An usher could round up the legal forms for changing your name on bank accounts, driver's license, stock certificates.

- Set deadlines to get things done. Otherwise, Parkinson's Law applies: "Work expands to fill the time available for its completion."

Here are some additional ideas from authorities in the field of wedding planning:

- Choose a wedding gown in a simple style. The ordering time may be shorter. Look at discontinued sample dresses on sale, or order a bridesmaid's dress—in white.

- Hire a wedding consultant for time-consuming tasks.

Bridal repair manual

Just when you want to look your absolute best, an unwanted beauty problem seems to pop up, causing your good looks to go astray! Here, to help fix those bothersome beauty blunders, professional beauty experts give you some quick, emergency repair tips to help turn these common disasters into beautiful dazzlers.

- Shiny face Nothing can ruin your bridal look more than oily shine on nose, forehead and chin. Keep it under control with a fluff of oil-control blotting powder, whisked on with a soft makeup brush for smooth, even application.

For makeup that looks fresh all day, super clean skin is the key. So before applying makeup, wash face thoroughly with a good, non-drying cream wash. Carry along astringent soaked pads during the day for on-the-spot cleanups. Then for more control, re-apply a fluff of translucent blotting powder.

- Blemishes It seems to always happen before an important event—unwanted pimples to spoil your looks. Although you might be tempted to squeeze them as a quick, emergency measure, it will only make the problem worse in the long run. Ask at the pharmacy for a medicated blemish cover-up.

- Puffy Eyes Some cures: soothe and repair tired, puffy eyes with a cold compress applied for about 10 minutes (cool tea bags or raw potato slices work well, too). Some causes: water retention (so try not to drink or eat right before retiring); sleeping with your face into the pillow; or sleeping in a hot, stuffy room.

- Frazzled Nail? To repair a chipped polished nail, simply fill in with a dab of your nail color, wait a few minutes, then brush-coat the whole nail. To clean up any smudges on still-wet polish, put polish remover into the bottle cap, dip polish brush in, stroke on lightly to "melt" uneven edges, then recolor the entire nail.

- Hot and Bothered Hands? Remedy the problem by spraying a little antiperspirant on them. If that's not available, splash hands with a light cologne or hold them under running cold water for a few minutes.

- Quick Hair Fix No time to re-set a style that flopped? Create new body, waves or curls with setting gel combed through damp hair. Push hair into the shape you want, let dry...and you're ready to go!

Rainbow of Roses create new traditions in wedding bouquets

A recent survey of retail florists found that today's brides are choosing roses as the reigning bloom in their bouquets, in a resurgence of formal weddings with all trimmings.

These brides are combining an old-world tradition with their personal signatures by replacing classic white roses with blooms ranging from yellow to lavender hues.

Yellow roses, the traditional symbol of joy and gladness, are popular with spring brides, particularly for mornings or mid-afternoon weddings.

Although many brides prefer to carry nosegays of yellow rosebuds, others are opting for wicker baskets brimming with blooms and trimmed with delicate ribbon.

Pink roses also bring a delicate touch to weddings, with their symbolism of grace and gentility. Florists report that pink roses are especially popular with brides whose fashion themes include taffeta gowns and dainty lace gloves.

Sweet-smelling lavender roses go well with both old-fashioned lace and sophisticated silk wedding gowns. Because lavender roses have perfume-like scents, many brides trim veils and headpieces with the blooms for a fragrant touch.

Other trends in "new tradition" wedding roses, include:

- Coral or orange roses mixed with autumn greenery for September and October weddings;
- Red and white roses combined in a single nosegay to represent unity; or
- An armful of long-stemmed red roses, reminiscent of a Miss America pageant, to replace the traditional nosegay.

It's evident that the nuptial rose today has no color limitations. By working with her florist well in advance of the wedding day, a bride-to-be can choose the rose colors and designs to express the feeling or sentiment most important to her on the most important day of her life.

Ribbons, bells, scrolls and roses decorate this Victorian wedding cake. The Victorian Charm cake topper shown here is just one of the many possibilities available. The Victoriana cake is made using eight, 12 and 16 inch round pans. Corinthian pillars, cake separator plates and bells. The cake, with the top layer frozen for the first wedding anniversary, serves 155 guests.

Cakes make a personal statement

Delicate colors, ribbons, intricate ornamentation, and icing flowers and flourishes are the new traditional in American wedding cakes. This elegant "Victoriana" wedding cake is a far cry from the first American "spice" wedding cakes that were heavy with dried fruits and laced with brandy and liquor.

Gone are the days when a young woman baked her cake before she had even met her groom to display her culinary gifts. Today's bride, after she's met the groom, can still make her wedding cake choice a personal expression.

With the wide variety of products and ideas available today, she can create a cake worthy of being a focal point of her reception.

A bride sometimes chooses a wedding ornament to top the cake first, then creates the cake or has it designed to accent it.

For those who would like to create a special wedding cake, the cake layers can be baked up to a month ahead and frozen until it's time to ice and decorate. But plan to do the final assembly of the tiered cake at the reception site.

First dinner party

Being a hostess is easier than you think

The new hostess should always set a table that makes her food, whether it be lamb or spaghetti and meatballs, look great. Bring out those wedding presents from the boxes. Use the silver serving dishes and silver serving pieces, try some special napkins and a lovely lace tablecloth. Light some candles, smile and pass the basket of bread.

You've been fêted and showered, now it's your turn to reciprocate. Everyone—family and friends—wants to see the wedding present china, crystal and silver shine as you serve up a gourmet meal while looking beautiful and serene. Instant anxiety!

Take heart, entertaining stylishly needn't be a traumatic experience or a chore, even for a novice. With a bit of advance planning and the right recipes, the experience will actually be enjoyable.

It's a good idea to start with a group of six people, an easily manageable number. Don't spend a lot of time preparing hors d'oeuvres—a selection of cheese and raw vegetables should do nicely. Let your husband handle the cocktail or wine orders.

The main dish (recipe follows) is savory and sophisticated, yet wonderfully quick and simple to put together. Have your butcher cube the meat. Do everything else ahead of party time, but bake the lamb and cook the pasta or rice—both ought to be al dente, of course.

To accompany the main dish, arrange slices of mozzarella and tomato attractively on a platter. Chill and marinate the salad in a sprightly olive oil/herb vinaigrette for a few hours before guests arrive.

Take a loaf of crusty Italian bread, cut in slices, spread with a mixture of equal parts olive oil and Parmesan. Cover with plastic wrap and, at the last minute, remove wrap and place under the broiler till golden.

For a refreshing dessert, offer seasonal fruits in that spectacular bowl with, perhaps, a plate of fudgy brownies for extra man-appeal.

Marinated Lamb in Wine Sauce

Makes 6 servings

1 cup olive oil

6 Tbls. soy sauce

6 Tbls. chopped parsley (Italian-style, if available)

3 small cloves garlic, minced

1 1/2 tsp. thyme, crushed

3/4 tsp. dry mustard

3/4 tsp. crushed red pepper

3/4 tsp. oregano, crushed

3 lbs. boneless leg of lamb, cut into 1-in. cubes

1 cup dry red wine

In blender, combine first 9 ingredients. Blend until smooth. Reserve 1/4 cup.

In shallow bowl, combine lamb and marinade. Toss to blend. Cover and let stand at room temperature for one hour.

Transfer to shallow roasting pan. Bake at 450 degrees for 20 minutes for medium, or until desired doneness; baste frequently.

Meanwhile, combine wine and reserve marinade. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Serve lamb over hot, cooked thin pasta (e.g., vermicelli, angel hair) or rice. Pass the wine sauce.

Beautiful nails: The final touch

Here are some tips for getting through the wedding day looking great:

- Treat yourself to a manicure and pedicure the day before the wedding. It's an inexpensive way to have hands, feet and legs massaged, and it helps reduce tension.

- Nails polished in neutral colors won't detract from you, your wedding gown or honeymoon trousseau.

- Don't use your nails as a tool when opening gifts arriving at the last minute. In the excitement, try to remember to use a pair of scissors or letter opener, or let the groom help.

- Don't forget to pack a small repair kit to take along on your honeymoon. It should contain an emery board, polish remover and cotton balls, nail glue, polish, base and top coats.

- Every two to three days, put aside 15-30 minutes to take care of your hands: Soak them in warm water for about 10 minutes, dry well and, to keep your manicure looking great, touch-up polish where needed and apply an extra coat of a clear top coat.

- If you break a nail, simply remove the polish, repair the nail with just a drop of glue, let dry, then file till smooth. Reapply base coat and nail polish, ending with a top coat. Remember, never put glue on top of polish or use more than a drop or two.

- To avoid hands and cuticles drying out from sun and exposure to water, massage in moisturizer several times a day.

Nails are not only a fashion statement, but an important accessory to the bride's trousseau. Shape and length should mainly be chosen according to the hand shape and size of the individual. Hands and nails should be groomed on a regular basis well before the big day.

Know when to accept or reject marital advice

How to handle a never-ending stream of advice from family and friends is a challenge all marrying couples face.

"It's not good for a marriage if a wife makes more money than her husband," the bride's mother might say. "You really should buy a condominium instead of renting," the groom's uncle will insist. Everyone is eager to help a bride and groom adjust to their new roles.

The only trouble with all this help is that it can be so overwhelming that the couple ends up feeling confused and pressured. Which advice should be taken? How can they turn down a piece of advice without hurting a loved one's feelings?

In order to deal with this situation, the couple must know what they want. They should sit down together before the wedding and make some specific decisions on where to live, children (how many and when), and careers.

Turn down unneeded advice

Pre-marital counseling—available through churches, universities and psychological associations—can help by providing a framework for these talks.

When the couple disagree, they should push to find a compromise rather than one or the other simply give in, since "easy" solutions often lead to anger and resentment.

Once a couple feel secure in their decisions, they'll be able to react calmly to the advice coming their way.

First, they should determine if there's an underlying reason why a person is so eager to offer advice. If a bride finds her mother-in-law-to-be taking a little too much interest in the wedding, she should stop and examine what's going on—maybe the woman always wanted a daughter of her own.

The bride can then respond on this level instead of with anger and perhaps think of ways to get her fiancé's mother more involved in the planning process.

Second, the couple should realize that all the advice they get won't be useless—especially when an advice-giver has experience in the area.

A harried bride and groom may feel that yet another opinion on where they should go for their honeymoon is the last thing they need, but if it's coming from a cousin who has traveled all over the world it could prove invaluable.

Finally, the bride and groom must know how to stop listening and turn down unneeded advice. Since most advice-givers mean well, it's only kind for the couple to let them know that they do value their opinions even if they can't use all of them.

ORGANIZE: Key to 'long-weekend wedding'

Today's bride rarely marries the boy next door. As the average age of the bride increases to 27 years, so does her opportunity to meet her fiancé through college or career. It's more likely that she's from Baltimore, he's from Tucson, and they have friends and relatives scattered at all points in between.

What's the best way to celebrate the merging of these two lifestyles? A party that lasts all weekend!

The "long weekend wedding" encourages out-of-town guests to make the trip and allows the bride and groom, as well as the guests, time to visit with people they rarely see.

The weekend wedding can also go beyond the traditional ceremony and reception to include a series of dinners, brunches and barbecues, as well as sports and sightseeing events.

Weekend weddings can be as diverse and unique as the couple.

How can one plan a "weekend wedding?"

• Think up activities you will enjoy - Would a mutual hobby provide a framework for the weekend? Your gourmet club could prepare a feast that caters creative cuisine from Friday evening to Sunday afternoon.

Are high school friends coming? Stage a Friday night sock hop complete with rented juke box. Weekend fun might include a softball game (brides team vs.

groom's team), sailing races, a kite-flying competition, a pool party.

• Let others help - Be careful not to burden yourselves with too many responsibilities. The bride's brother might organize a ping pong match, the groom's father get his family together for Saturday breakfast. Your bridesmaids might host a softball game or cocktail party in your honor.

• Pick a home base - Many hotels offer substantial room-rate reductions for a group. Each guest will pay for hotel rooms and travel expenses, but it's more fun if everyone's staying in the same place, so you could help by reserving blocks of rooms.

Ask if the hotel will throw in a complimentary "hospitality suite," where your guests can snack and mingle between activities. See if something special - a card and box of chocolates - could be placed in each room.

• Spread the word - How to inform guests of the weekend's activities? A printed card, enclosed with your invitation, might specify the host, location and time for each event. Guests can then determine which activities they'd like to attend.

Very detailed weekend plans? Try sending a form letter. A follow-up letter could update plans for activities (clothes and equipment needed).

Steppin' in style and comfort

On your wedding day, you should take into consideration two very important items—your feet. Since you'll be on them most of the day, comfortable shoes are a must. Tired, aching feet will only make for an uncomfortable bride.

But wanting comfort doesn't have to mean forsaking style. Your shoes should be the finishing touch on the beauty of your dress.

For stylish comfort, think pumps. Classic white pumps give the allure of simple elegance and gracefulness yet give sturdy support.

From the newer low-heeled versions to the traditional high, there is a pump suitable for everyone. And a pair of white pumps will be a staple in your wardrobe on your honeymoon.

If you don't wear high heels every day, don't wear them on your wedding day. There are many low-heeled and flat styles that can complete your look. If you do opt for high heels, make sure the fit is right. Here are some guidelines to follow when shopping for those special shoes:

• Have both feet measured—the two are not identical.

• Accommodate the larger foot and, if necessary, alter the fit of the other shoe.

• Shop after you've been on your feet awhile, not early in the morning.

• Wear hosiery similar to what you'll wear on your wedding day.

• After both shoes are on, wiggle your toes and arch your feet. Sit down. Walk again. If the shoes don't fit now, don't count on breaking them in.

• Use a full length mirror to see how shoes will look to others; you're the only one who will look down at them.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

Unexpected touches of luxury in the compact, easy to maintain Safford makes this an attractive home for a retired couple, a single person, or a couple with no plans of having children.

Relaxation comes easy in the soothing hot water of the outdoor spa. Owners can ease the transition to each new day with a short soak in the hot bubbles. In the evening, they can slip into the bubbly water to wash away the stresses of a busy day. The tub is also large enough to accommodate friends, who can change clothes, and shower in the guest bathroom.

Equally luxurious is the high ceilinged living room/dining room, vaulted to the second floor. This area creates a feeling of spaciousness that belies the Safford's compact design.

A railed loft, which overlooks the area, can be a study or extra guest room. Book-lovers might want to line the one windowless wall with built-in floor-to-ceiling bookcases. A walk-in closet provides additional storage space. Another guest room, this one fully enclosed, is on the ground floor.

The master suite comes complete with the amenities modern homeowners want - a walk-in closet and compartmentalized double vanities. Skylights in both the first and second floors, provide soft natural lighting. Built-in utilities are neatly tucked into a nook near the half-bath.

For a study plan of the SAFFORD (209-25), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Nursing home end of tunnel: Seniors

The elderly often consider their life story to be over by the time they enter a nursing home, according to the results of a preliminary study by a University of Florida sociologist.

Nursing-home residents were asked by sociologist Jaber Gubrium to tell their life stories and divide them into chapters.

"Rarely does the last chapter include their current situation," he said. "It may end at retirement or when a spouse dies — but it rarely ends with the nursing home."

Although the elderly acknowledge their current existence in a nursing home, they do not deem it part of their lives, he said.

People form their own ideas about when life begins and ends, and this seems to be at odds with traditional notions about life chronology, he said.

"When we ask nursing home patients if the place is home, they'll say 'No, it's homey, but it's not home,'" Gubrium said.

The study, funded by a $238,000 grant from the National Institute of Aging, found that the few people who have family-like relationships in a nursing home are most likely to consider the institution home-like and the experience a meaningful part of their lives, he said.

"One woman who did call the place home said her roommate was like a sister to her and several other people were like family to her," Gubrium said.

Others said nursing homes would be more like home if they were free to come and go.

Dependence and poor health — not the nursing home itself — separated "just living" from life in these people, he said.

"Our study is about the narrative organization of lives, not the quality of nursing home care," Gubrium said.

"The whole business of what the nursing home is — whether it's a home or hospital or even a part of one's life — is very complicated and has little connection to people's judgment about living at a particular stage of life," he said.

"We chose people close to the end of life for this study because we wanted to see if life extends subjectively to the very end," he said.

Gubrium also hopes to learn how elderly men and women differ in narratively reconstructing their lives, as well as the differences between blacks and whites. Gubrium began his two-year study this fall by interviewing residents of nursing homes, adult congregate living facilities and the general community in the Gainesville area.

Unlike nursing home residents, other people in the study include their current living circumstances as part of their lives, he said. (AP)

Study: Seniors become prisoners in own home

Many of the retirees who move to Florida to enjoy their so-called "Golden Years" wind up instead becoming prisoners in their own homes because of their fear of crime, a state task force on crime and the elderly reported Tuesday.

The 65-page report concluded that people over the age of 60 are victimized less frequently than younger people, but "the resulting injuries or incurred damages are more devastating," for the older victims.

Florida not only has the oldest population in the United States, but a soaring crime rate. By next year, more than 2.4 million people 65 and older will reside in the Sunshine State.

"Older persons live in abject terror of such everyday occurrences as going to the grocery store or merely stepping outside to pick up their Social Security checks," said the report, compiled by the Attorney General's Task Force on Crimes and the Elderly.

Keith Merry of the Jacksonville Meals on Wheels Program told the task force that many elderly people in his community refuse to come to the door for fear of whomever may be outside.

Some neighborhoods in Jacksonville are so bad, Merry said, that his program cannot even let its volunteers go there to provide services.

"The high concentration of the aged in one environmental setting acts as a magnet to criminals," the report said. "Public housing, especially for the elderly, is a prime target for purse snatchings, robberies and burglaries."

Additionally, the elderly are more likely to be harmed, injured or held hostage during a burglary attempt because they sometimes surprise an intruder since their failing eyesight or hearing leaves them unaware someone is in the house.

"The elderly are perceived by juveniles as easy targets for violence and crime," said the report.

Being victimized by an unseen burglar can be devastating for an older person, who might feel the last domain of retreat — the home — has been violated.

It is not the monetary value of the items taken that bothers them the most, but the loss of irreplaceable, sentimental items, the report said.

In addition to threats from unknown criminals, the elderly are particularly vulnerable to the smooth-talkers.

The report, based on research and testimony gathered during a four-month period last winter, also noted that the state has begun revising its guardianship laws along with imposing tougher penalties for those committing crimes against elderly citizens. (AP)

Grayslake's Geist wins crown, award

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The two days of wrestling was all over but there was still tension in the air at Waukegan West High School.

"I hope Ryan wins outstanding wrestler," Grayslake Coach Steve Kushner said of senior Ryan Geist.

Geist had already won the title at 145 pounds but the undefeated senior was still hoping to be crowned the top wrestler in the county. The tension continued as the public address announcer said there was a three-way tie. Kushner then suggested having a second vote. It was taken, and smiles were the order of the day as Geist received an early Christmas present.

"I can see improvement in him from last year. He has a good feel for the opponent and he can make short, quick adjustments," Kushner said.

Geist said the toughest match of the tournament came in the finals against Warren's Brett Jackson. Geist won the battle on a technical fall in four minutes.

Earlier, he had won in a fall in 1:35 and 1:25 over Garnell Johnson of North Chicago and Kenny Pikel of Waukegan West.

As a team, the Rams finished sixth in the 14-team meet with 106.5 points, just behind Warren's 113 points. Highland Park won the meet followed by Waukegan East, Waukegan West and Carmel.

"I think we did very well considering we only had seven wrestlers," Kushner said.

Geist and Jeff Walls, who was out with the flu for the county meet, often prepare for meets by wrestling against assistant coach Nate Carter, a former champ in his own right.

Geist's mom, Cheryl, was at the meet, as always, lending support. She praised the coaching her son has received - from Richard Walters at Avon School to Don Rowden in the freshman year Geist spent at Grant to Kushner and Carter this year.

"Coach Kushner helps me with my confidence," Geist said.

Geist prepared for his senior season with a series of camps. These included the University of Illinois, as well as camps in Kansas City and Iowa.

Geist's title was the ninth for Grayslake in the 18-year history of the county meet, and fourth in the last two years.

The county meet title was not Geist's first this year. Earlier, he had finished first at the Wheeling tournament. He dominated opponents there, too, pinning his first foe in 18 seconds, winning the second match in an 11-1 major decision and earned a second period pin in the finals.

Geist, a Round Lake Beach resident, has been improving his wrestling techniques since the fifth grade and does not plan to stop when he graduates next June. He would like to continue wrestling in college.

Ryan Geist

Young grapplers pace Carmel to fourth place

The youth movement is definitely taking hold at Carmel High's wrestling program. And the youngsters may have scored a major confidence building victory with a fourth-place finish at the Lake County wrestling meet.

"I thought we did fine considering we have two freshmen, five sophomores, four seniors and the rest juniors," Carmel Coach Joe Scordino said.

The Corsairs finished with 145 points for fourth, well above Warren's 113 points. Highland Park won the meet with 191 points. Waukegan East was second with 185 and Waukegan West was third at 162.5 points.

Derrick Noble at 103 pounds was the only title winner for the Corsairs, as he beat Grayslake's Mike Kearby in a fall at 1:16.

He earlier beat Warren's Ken Sooley at 14-1 and Edgar Lenze of Grant.

The Corsairs, at the other end of the weight classes, had undefeated Todd Baczek lose his unbeaten string this year at 14 matches. Highland Park's Troy Prehar, whom Baczek had defeated last year at regionals, won 13-2.

Also gaining a second place finish for the Corsairs was Chris Perlitz at 135 pounds. He fell to James Spillman of Waukegan West in the finals but beat Mike Smith of Grayslake 6-4 and Obed Galvan of Highland Park.

Grayslake had five of its seven wrestlers place for 106.5 points and fifth place. Grant edged Stevenson 97-92.5 points for seventh. Mundelein and Deerfield tied with 88 points. Wauconda had 55 and North Chicago and Lake Forest had 50 points. Zion-Benton was last with 35.

Jerry Follett of Stevenson, Ryan Geist of Grayslake, Paul Swanson of Grant, and Dave Cashmore of Wauconda all won titles to highlight their team's efforts. Three of those matches featured intra-area struggles.

Follett won in a technical fall in 4:30 over Adam Glauser of Grant. It was Follett's third technical fall win of the tournament.

Geist, who was later named outstanding wrestler of the tournament, won in a technical fall over Warren's Brett Jackson at 145 pounds in four minutes.

Swanson beat Vito D'Astici of Highland Park in a fall in 2:37 at 152 pounds.

Cashmore outbattled Warren's Begorra Taylor in a fall at 5:42 at 171 pounds. Cashmore had to beat Dave Patton of Wauconda and James Scott of Waukegan East.

Paslewicz optimistic as third CLC season starts

College of Lake County's wrestling squad is optimistic as the Lancers conduct pre-season workouts for the new campaign.

Third-year Coach Stan Paslewicz has a number of wrestlers on the squad who have already earned success at the high school and college level.

"Each year we have improved and were able to recruit stronger kids," Paslewicz said.

The Lancers do have a strong resume this winter as the days countdown before the season opener Jan. 6 at Cathage.

Pending the completion of first semester grades, the Lancers figure to have a full squad.

Heading the returning wrestlers are national junior college qualifiers Joe Belcher and Jerry Chapman. Both are Round Lake products and were 1-2 in the national tournament.

The Lancers have been competing in tournaments on their own this month.

"Jerry looked good two weeks ago, placing third at Whitewater," Paslewicz said.

Belcher, who terrorized opposing linemen during his days at Round Lake, leads a Bo Jackson type lifestyle in collegiate sports. From August to November, he plays for Harper College in Palatine.

State qualifiers dot the CLC lineup.

Keith Friedman, a Warren High grad, will wrestle at 134 or 142 pounds. Gregg Broege, from Libertyville, will compete at 177 pounds.

Kelly Painter, a Waukegan West product, placed second in the Greco-Roman competition at the Prairie State games in Champaign this summer.

"I look for a lot from Kelly," the coach said.

Warren grad Nic Tomassello was on the team at junior college national champ Lincoln last year.

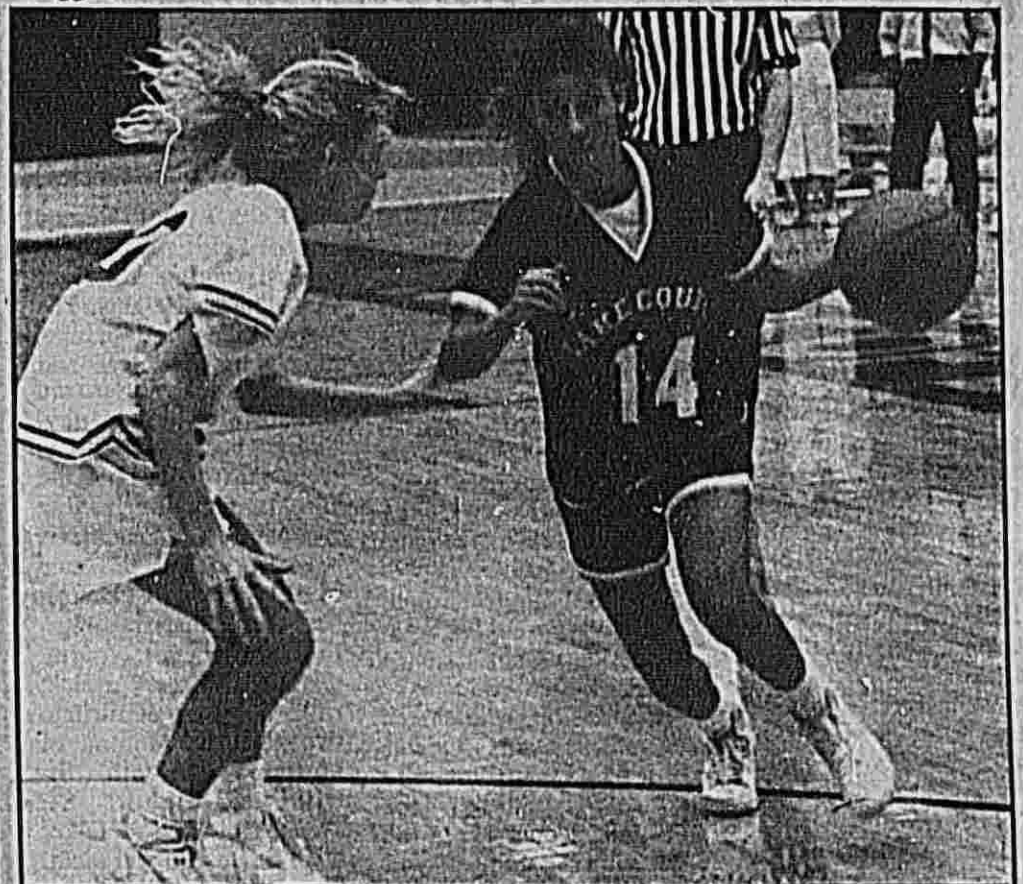

Grant's Jerry Maser looks to contribute at 134-142 after transferring from North Central. Another transfer is Dan Metzger, a sectional qualifier in 1987 at Lake Forest.

Two McHenry County high school wrestlers on the roster are John Van Engio, a sectional qualifier at Cary-

Grove at 126 pounds and John Rabine, a Richmond-Burton grad who is expected to wrestle at 177 or 190 pounds.

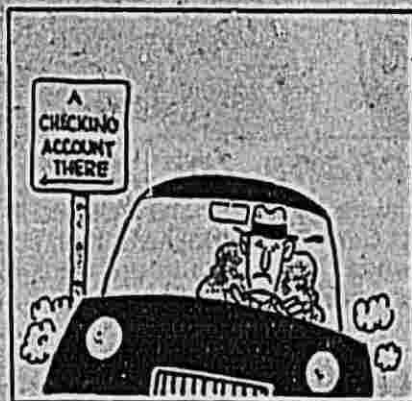

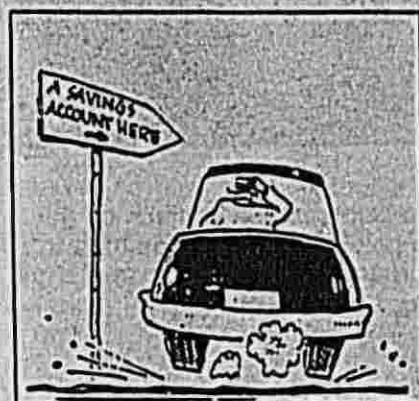

As for the conference, the Lancers had six champs at the conference meet last year, but there were only three teams. McHenry County College has added a team this winter.

CLC will host a triangular Jan. 10, 1990 against Waubensee and Madison Area Technical Institute as well as the Skyway Conference meet Jan. 31.

Expect Jeffrey to coach Warren girls softball

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Linda Jeffrey will likely be the new softball coach at Warren Twp. High School.

Athletic Dir. Mike Kunkle confirmed that Jeffrey will succeed Chris Woodard as softball coach.

Jeffrey, a Grayslake resident, was an assistant volleyball coach for Felcia Moscatelli last fall as the Blue Devils captured a regional title. Jeffrey was head softball coach at Carmel High for two years.

"I hope to keep the fine tradition that Chris Woodard started," Jeffrey said.

Jeffrey, whose daughter

Nikki is on the Grayslake girls basketball team, attend said she does not plan on any major changes in philosophy from Woodard's system. Woodard resigned her Warren post of several years to accept a position at Highland Park High last year.

"We both believe that softball is a sport to have fun with and learn from later on in life," Jeffrey said.

Jeffrey played 16 inch softball as a teenager.

"Softball and volleyball have always been one of my favorite sports," she said.

Jeffrey also has experience officiating volleyball.

"I went to officiating because it was a way to stay in sports. I's like to enjoy the good parts of both," she said.

Jeffrey also has experience in sports medicine at Cathrage College in Kenosha, where she accompanied teams to all games.

As far as the Warren assistant positions are concerned, Gail Jozwiak, who has coached freshmen level over the past few years, will coach either junior varsity or freshmen. A third coach has yet to be named.

Sonics capture second at Knights' tournament

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Santa Maria's basketball team has a habit of second-place finishes.

The Sonics completed another Saturday, reaching the championship of the fourth annual Mid-Season Basketball Championship at the College of Lake County.

The Sonics, after winning three games, fell in the title contest to St. Marys of Buffalo Grove 49-45.

The contest featured a dramatic comeback bid by the Sonics, who trailed by 17 points in the first half against a bigger St. Mary's squad.

"We had a hard time in the first half but you have to give St. Mary's credit," Santa Maria Coach Cliff Babbey said.

The public address announcer played "We are the Champions" as one of the final songs at the tournament hosted by the Precious Blood Council 9689 of St. Gilbert. Teams from McHenry, Lake and Cook counties participated.

The Sonics offense was a balanced attack as three players, led by Make Rapplean's 16 points, scored in double figures. "We have a different leading scorer each game," Babbey said.

The first quarter was fairly even, with St. Mary's taking a 12-10 lead.

St. Mary's opened the gap in the second quarter, holding the Sonics to six free throws in a 32-17 lead.

Two three-pointers by Rapplean brought the Sonics to within seven, 44-37. The closest the Sonics would come would be a 46-43 deficit after a baseline jumper by Jim Bollinger.

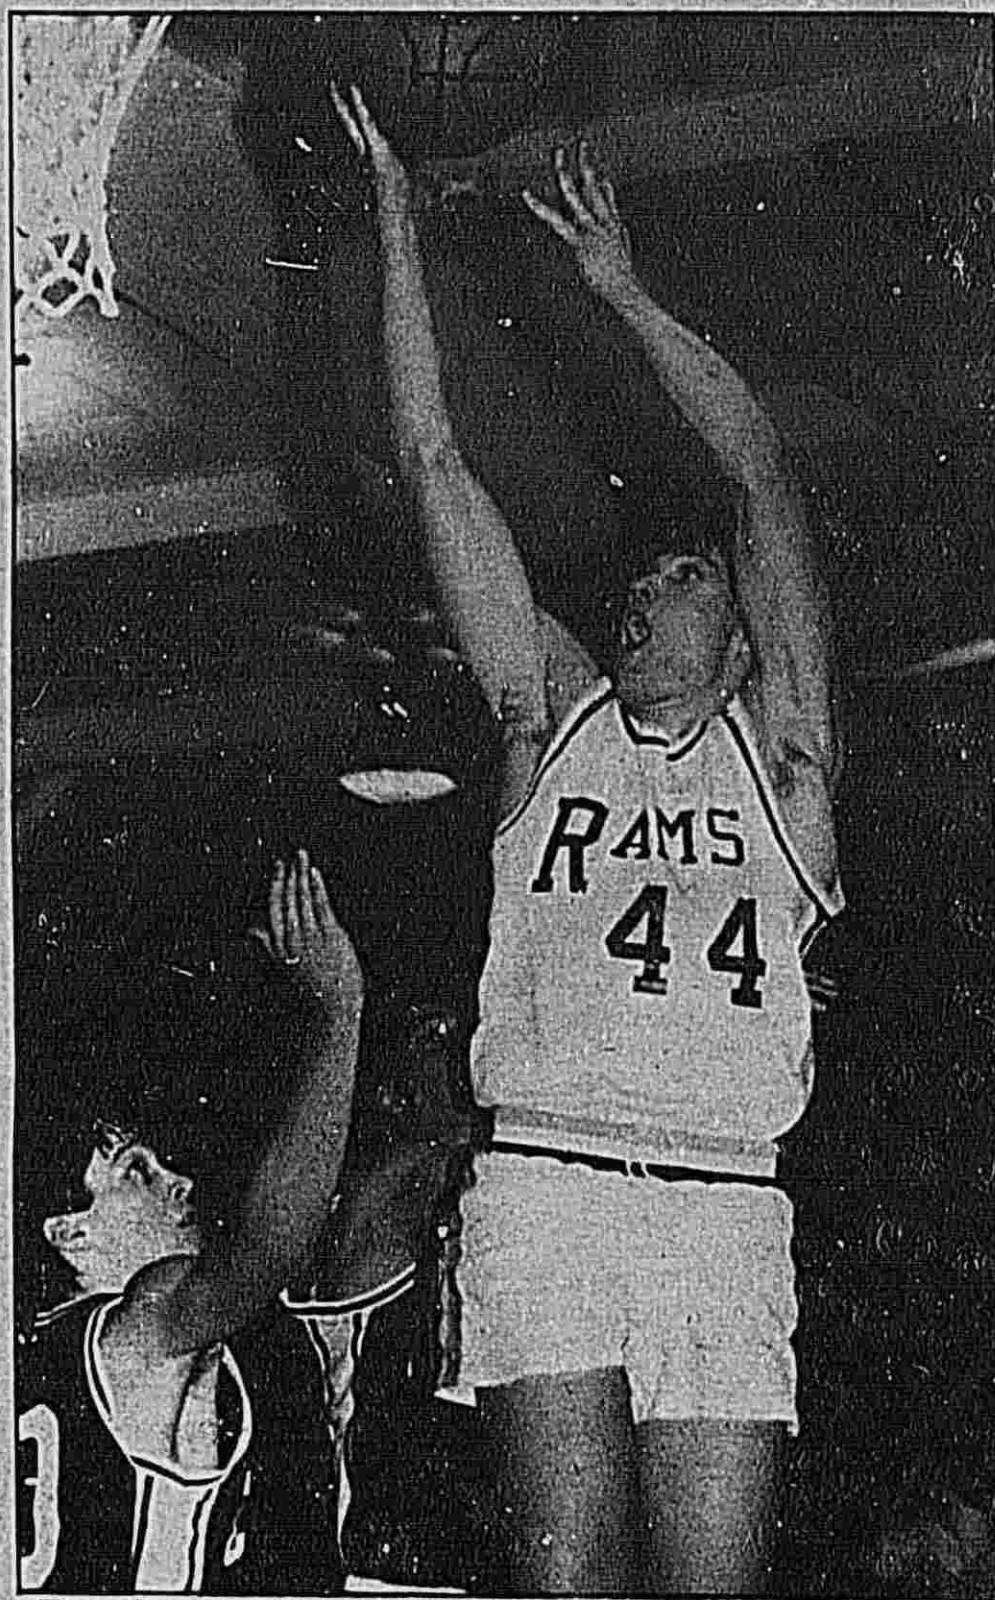

Ryan Griffin, who shared team honors with 15 points in a 52-45 semi-final win over St. Thomas of Palatine, scored 11. In the Palatine game, Ryan Wadington had 15 points as well.

A 13-6 third-quarter run was the difference Saturday morning.

In the previous round, the Sonics ousted St. Thomas of Crystal Lake 50-28, Griffin had 13 points in that contest.

Tournament notebook: the winner of the three-and-one-half foot tall Keith Ryan Pride and School Spirit Award went to St. Thomas of Villanova in Arlington Heights. The Vikings featured parents dressed up in headgear and mascots, were not around to collect the trophy, though, because the teams were sent home with the flu....In the cheerleading competition, Santa Maria was also second, this time to St. Theresa of Palatine. The close final standings: third, St. James; fourth, Our Lady of the Wayside; fifth, St. Mary of Buffalo Grove; sixth, Montini of McHenry; seventh, St. Gilberts; eighth, St. Thomas of Crystal Lake; ninth St. Joseph and tenth, St. Anne....Zion-Benton High cheerleaders judged the competition...The Knights are far from ending their basketball tourneys, as a girls tournament will be held at CEC Jan. 20, 21, 26 and 27.

Duchane for two

Seier's shooting paces Carmel 98-point show

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The day after Christmas is normally a day when former Carmel athletes return to their alma madder to check out how the old team is faring.

And those grads who attended the Carmel-North Chicago girls game had to come away pleased if not impressed after a 98-27 romp. In the first game of the Carmel Christmas Classic, Waukegan East topped Grayslake 50-44.

"I was going to call a timeout because we didn't want to run up the score," Carmel Coach Bob Haukdahl said.

The win improved the Corsairs to 9-2 overall while the Warhawks stayed winless.

The contest featured a sharp-shooting show by Carmel's Stephanie Seier. She impressed her older friends watching from the first row with three three-point shots in the first half, six for the game, as she extended her county-leading total to 26.

"We work on that every practice," Haukdahl said.

For good measure, Seier added 12 assists and eight steals.

The 98 points represented the most a Carmel team has scored since he became coach six years ago.

"We have not practiced since Wednesday and it showed. The girls will do a lot of running tomorrow," North Chicago Coach Kay Kechn said.

Michele Muellner led Carmel with 20 points, Carolyn Curley had 15 and Sarah Smith had 12, but Haukdahl also praised the contributions of players who normally watch from the bench. Beth Lacke, a sophomore, had five rebounds and two points and Jenny Kolacz had six points.

The season started late for Carmel, caused by the volleyball teams' appearance in the Sweet Sixteen. "We had five starters back, but all were in the volleyball team," Haukdahl said.

The game was no contest from the start. Carmel recovered from missing 16 of its first 18 shots to grab a 20-0 lead before North Chicago scored on a three-pointer by Kortney Little with 2:11 left in the first quarter.

The lead was an impressive 31-3 after one.

Calculators were needed in the further stages of the game as Carmel ran the fast-break and set-up offenses to clinic style. A bucket by Noreen Cunniff made it a laughable 47-7.

Waukegan East used defensive pressure against a Grayslake squad weakened by illness and injury.

"We just ran out of gas. We did not run the offense very well," Grayslake Coach Brad Larson, whose team dropped to 4-9, said.

The Rams, despite trailing by nine points in the second half, still had a chance to win. Two Chris LuPori free throws brought the Rams to within five points at 49-44 with 2:36 left.

But despite several chances, the team could not score after that.

LuPori had 11 points and 12 rebounds for Grayslake, the only Ram in double figures.

Leslie Moore had 14 points to lead Waukegan East.

Smith forecasts controlled growth for Grayslake

Grayslake Mayor Marv Smith is supporting the annexation of more than 800 acres into the Village of Grayslake.

The property in question is known as the Central Range area, which was originally part of the Heartland court dispute.

"It is a very low density development with a lot of open space and will give the village control over its boundaries," Smith said.

Smith, who was a trustee while the Heartland agreement was hammered out, said the pact includes two parcels for industrial park use which would add to the village's tax base.

Zoning would include incorporating some county zoning regulations into Grayslake ordinances. David Reitman, an attorney representing developer Lakes Partners, said at a plan commission meeting the zoning requests are limited to the settlement agreement.

Both the Grayslake Plan Commission and the Plans and Subs Committee of the village board have granted favorable recommendations for plans submitted by Lake Properties Venture. Smith said the village board should consider the matter in early 1990.

As far as the economic growth of Grayslake is concerned, Mayor Smith said he expects more controlled growth in the area. "We may have our boundaries pretty well set," Smith said of 1990.

Smith, a village trustee for 18 years before being elected mayor in April, said the village's biggest economic coup for 1988 was landing of the Motorola plant in Grayslake. It is expected the plant could bring some 3,000 jobs.

While the figures are not final, Grayslake Village Manager Mike Ellis said building permits issued in the village are down this year from 1988. He said the downward turn is a continuation.

However, village officials believe that when the several subdivisions presently being considered are started, that may reverse the building permit numbers.

Firemen fight fire Going Places

Grayslake Fire Dept. personnel fought a fire in Gages Lake Dec. 22.

The fire was reportedly caused by a tenant trying to thaw water pipes, according to Grayslake Fire Dept.'s Don Mobley.

Nancy Hasselt was the tenant at 33767 Lake Shore Dr. in Gages Lake. The home is owned by Jacques Kribb.

The estimated damage caused was $100 to $150.

Winter begins with Comm. Ed. record

Commonwealth Edison's
3.1 million northern Illinois customers ushered in the start of winter by breaking the all-time seasonal record for electricity demand for the second time within a week. Between 5 and 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec.
21, customers demanded
13,295,000 kilowatts,

breaking the mark set Thursday, Dec. 14, when demand reached 12,705,000
kw.

That record, in turn, exceeded a demand level of 12,445,000 kw which had stood since Jan. 5, 1988.
The new record demand level is 6.8 percent higher than the mark set in 1988.
